THE PSALMES IN METRE.

PSALME I.

Blessed man, that doth not in the wickedes counsell walk : nor stand in sinners way , nor sit in seat of scornfull folk . But setteth in Iehovahs law , his pleasurefull delight . And in his law doth meditate, by day and eke by night.

3 And he shalbe, like-as a tree,

by waters brooks planted ;

Which in his time, shal give his fruit :

his lease eke shal not fade ;

and whatsoever he shall doe,

it prosperously shall thrive.

4 Not so the wicked: but as chaffe, which winde away doth drive.

5 Therefore, the wicked shal not in the iudgement stand upright :

And in the assemblee of the just ,

6 For, of the just, Iehovah be acknowledgeth the way:
and way, of the ungracious shall utterly decay.

PSALME 2.

Sing this as the 18 Psalme.

WHY doe the heathens rage tumultuously :
and peoples, meditate on vanity :

3 Kings of the earth, themselues presentingset :
and Princes for to plot together get against Iehovah, 'gainst his Christ also.

5 Break we, their bands: & their cords from us throw.

4 He laugheth, that in heavens doth reside :
the Lord he them doth mockingly deride.

5 Then in his anger speake to them will bee :
and in his wrath them trouble suddainlie.

6 And I, anointed-have my King: upon the mountaine of my holinesse, Syon.

7 Tell will I the decree: IAH sayd to mee, thou art my son; this day begat I thee.

8 Askme, and I will giue thyne heritance, heathens : and earths ends, thy firme-retenance.

9 Thou shalt them roughly-rule with yron rod.
as Potters vessell scatter them abroad.

10 And now, ye Kings bewise: be nurtured,

11 ye earths Iudges. Iehovah serve with dread :

12 and joy, with trembling. Kys the Son, lest he be wroth, and perish in the way doe ye;
when burne shall suddenly his angry-face:
O blessed, al their hope in him that place.

PSALME 3.

A Psalm of David, when he fled from the face of Absolom his sonne.

Ow many my distrellers be, o Iah:

hope

PSALM III.

how many, that doe rise up against me!

3 How many, that of my soule saying be:

there is no health, for him in God, Selah!

4 But thou, a shield about me art, O Iah:
my glorie, and up lifter of my head.

5 I to Iehovah, with my voice, called:
he heard me, from his holy mount, Selah.

6 I layd me down, and slept: I waking said, for me Iehovah firmly up did beare.

7 For thousands ten of folk, I will not feare:
which me besetting round about inclose.

8 Arise thou up, saue me my God; O Iah:
for, all my foes thou smitest on cheek bone:

9 breakst wickeds teeth. To Iah salvation:
thy blessing, on thy people be Selah.

PSALME 4.

To the mayster of the musicke on Neginoth, a Psalme of David.

Sing this as the 1 Psalme

GOD of my justice, when I call me answer; in distresse thou mad'st me roomth: thou heare to me, and heare thou my requests.

3 Mens sonnes, how long shall my glorie to ignominie bee:

A 1 will

PSALM IIII. V.

will yee love vanitie : Selah ,

will yee seek fallitie ?

4 But know yee, that Iehovah hath selected wondrously ,
his gracious saint : Iehovah heares ,
when unto him I cry.

5 Be stirred and commit not sinne :
considerately-say
within your heart, upon your bed ;
and be you still, Selah.

6 The sacrifices of justice for-sacrifices slay :
and confidently-put your trust in th'ever-being- Iah.

7 Many there be that say, o who will cause us good to see ?
the light, Iehovah, of thy face upon us lifted bee.

8 Thou givest joy into my heart :
more then the time, wherein their corne, and also their new wine have multiplied been.

9 In peace together, lay me down and also sleep wil I :
for thou L O R D wilt alone me fear, in confident-safetie.

PSALME 5.

■ To the maister of the Musick on Nichiloth ; a psalme of David.

voice attend of my cry: for to thee, I pray.

- 4 Iehovah, heare my voice shalt thou at morn: at morn will I addresse
- 5 to thee, and will look-out. For, thou no God delighting wickednesse:
None evill, with thee sojourne shall
- 6 Vaine glorious-fools, shall fore thine eyes not set themselues; thou hatest all that work painful-iniquities.
- 7 Thou bringest to perdition, them that be speakers of a lye: Iehovah, doth abhorre the man of blouds and guiling-fallacie.
- 8 But I, will come thine house intoo in multitude of thy mercie:
in feare of thee, will worship doo to pallace of thy sanctitie.
- 9 Me in thy justice lead, o Iah, because of them that me envy:
before me, make thou straight thy way.
- 10 For, in his mouth no certainty; Their in-part woeful-evils is their throat a grave is open-broad:
their tongue, they smooth with flatteries
- 11 Asguiltie-them condemne, o God,
From their consulted purposes fall let them: driue thou them away, with their full-many trespasses:
against thee, for rebell doe they.
- 12 And all that hope in thee-for stay, shall joy, shall shout eternally, and thou shalt cover them: and they
that loue thy name, be glad in thee.
- 13 For thou, Iehovah wilt bestow a blessing on the righteous-one:

him, as with buckler crown wilt thou with gracious-acceptation.

PSALME 6.

1. To the maister of the Musick on Neginoth, upon the eight, a Psalme of David.

Sing this as the 3 psalme.

- Iehovah in thy wrath rebuke not me;
neither chastise me in thine angry heat.
3 Iehovah shew me grace, for I am weak; Heale me o Iah; for my bones troubled be.
4 Also my soule, is troubled vehemently and thou Iehovah, how long wilt thou cease?
5 Returne Iehovah, thou my soule release:
o save thou me because of thy mercie.
6 For, record none of thee in death appears, who shal confesse to thee, in deadly lake?
7 I faint with sighes; my bed to swim I make,
each night: I bath my bed-sted, with my tears.
8 Gnawn is with indignation mine eye:
it is wext-old, for al that me distresse.
9 Away from me, all that work wickednesse:
for heard hath IAH, voyce of my weeping crie.
10 Iehovah he hath heard my suit-for-grace:
Iehovah, hath my prayer accepted.
11 Abasht be all my foes, and sore troubled:
returne, and be abasht in suddayn-space.

PSALME 7.

1 Shigajon, of David: which he sang to Iehovah; upon the words of Cush, son of Iemini.

Ehovah mine almighty God, I hope repose in thee; save me from all that me pursue, and thou

PSALM VII.

deliver me. 3 Lest he a renting-Lion like, my soule in peeces teare : breaking-asunder , while there is no one deliverer.

- 4 Iehouah mine almighty. God, if this-thing done have I :
if that there be within my hands wrong-full-iniquitie.
- 5 If I have him rewarded y^h,
that with me was at peace : (yea him that my distreser was causlesse, I did release.)
- 6 Let foe pursue my soule, and take :
and tread my life on clay :
my glorie also let him make.
dwell in the dust Selah.
- 7 Rise-up, Iehovah in thy wrath;
for rages of my foes,
be thou lift up: and wake to me, judgement thou didst propose.
- 8 And round about thee compasse shall,
the peoples assembly:
and for the same, doe thou returne unto the place on hye.
- 9 Iehovah, will the peoples judge,
my judge Iehovah be:
even as my justice is, and as my perfectnesse in mee.
- 10 Oh let the wickeds malice end, and stabliss thou firmly

PSALM VII VIII.

- the just-man for, o just God, thou the hearrs and reines doost-try.
- 11 My shield in God; the saviour, of the upright in heart.
- 12 God, is a just judge; and each day,
God; angry-threateneth smart.
- 13 For if that he doe not returne, his sword he sharp will whett :
his bow he bended hath, and he
the same hath readie sett.
- 14 And for him, he hath ready-made the instruments of death :
for them that hotly-persecute, his arrowes he worketh.
- 15 Loe he shalbe in travell of painefull iniquitie :
for molestation he conceiv'd,
and shall bring forth a lye.
- 16 A hollow-pit he digged hath,
and delved deep the same :
and falln he is, into the ditch that he did working frame.
- 17 His molestation, it shall upon his head turn down :
his violent wrong also shall descend upon his crown.
- 18 I will confesse Iehovah as is his just-equitie :
and will sing-psalm, unto the name of Iehovah most hye.

PSALME 8.

1 To the mayster of the musick upon Gittith ; a Psalme of David.

Iah our Lord, how excellent-great is thy name in

PSALM VIII.

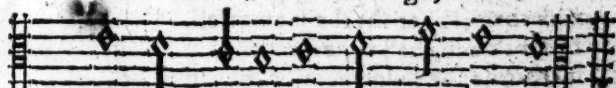

in all the earth : thou which hast given thy glorious majestic about the heaven. 3 From mouth of babes , and sucklings , thou firmness foundedst , becaule of them that thee distresse.

To make the foe, and selfe avenger cease :

- 4 When I behold thy heav'ns, thy fingers deed :
the moon and stars, which thou hast stablished.
- 5 What is fraile man that him thou remembrest ?
and Adams son, that him thou viftest ?
- 6 For thou a little lesser hast made him, than be the Gods : and crow'nd him with glorie,
and eke with honourable decencie.
- 7 Of thy hand works, thou gavest him ruling:
under his feet thou set didst ev'ry thing.
- 8 Sheep & beeves all: & field beasts with the same.
- 9 Foule of the heav'ns, fish of the sea also :
that through the path ways of the seas doth goe.
- 10 Oh IAH our Lord : how excellent great fame in all the earth hath thy renowned-name.

PSALME 9.

To the mayster of the musick upon Muth labben ; 2 Psalme of David.

Sing this as the 25 Psalme.

With all my heart, Iehovah I confesse:
al thy works marveilous, I wil expresse.

3 Rejoyce

PSALM IX.

- 3 Rejoyce, & gladnes shew in thee will I:
I will sing psalm, to thy name o most hye.
- 4 Mine enemies when backward they turned:
they from thy face, stumbled and perished.
- 5 For thou my judgement and my doom, hast done;
hast siten, judge of justice, on the throne.
- 6 The heathens thou severe-rebuked hast, the wicked one hast to-perdition-cast:
the name of them thou wiped hast away,
to everlasting and perpetuall aye,
- 7 The desolations of th'enemie, quite ended are to perpetuities:
and cities thou hast puld up; of them- all with them, is perisht the memoriall.
- 8 Iehovah allo, shall for ever sit:
his throne for judgement, he prepareth sit.
- 9 And he, will judge the world with right justice:
will judge the peoples, with right equities.
- 10 And for th'opprest, IAH will be refuge-hye:
a refuge hye, at times in misery.
- 11 And they that know thy name, will trust in thee:
for thou LORD leavest not, them that seek thee.
- 12 Sing to Iehovah, that in Sion dwells:
his practises, shew-forth among peoples.
- 13 For them remembreth, he that bloods doth seek;
he forgets not, cry of th'afflicted meek.
- 14 Iehovah, shew me grace, my trouble see from my foes: from deaths gates, up lifting me.
- 15 That I, in daughter Sions gates, may noyse, thy prayses all: may in thy health rejoyce.
- 16 The heathens sunk are; in the pit they made:
caught is their foot, in net that close they-layde.
- 17 Knowne is Iehovah; judgement he hath done;
in his hand-work, snar'd is the wicked-one;
- 18 o minde this well! Turn shall into the pit the wicked: heathens all, that God forget.
- 19 For, not for aye forgot shall be the poore:
not needies hope, perish for evermore.
- 20 Iehovah rise, strong let not weak-man be:

PSALM X.

let heathens judged be, 'fore face of thee.
21 Iehovah, strike in them a dread dismay:
let heathens know, weak-men they be Selah.

PSALM 10.

Sing this as the 7 Psalm.

VV Herefore Iehovah standest thou removed-farre-aside?
at times when we are in distresse, wherefore doest thou thee hide?

- 2 The wicked in his haughtinesse, hotly-pursues the poore :
let them be taken in the crafts that they haue thought before.
- 3 For, for his soules desired-lust, praise doeth the wicked-wight:
the covetous eke he doth blesse,
he doth the LORD despight.
- 4 The wicked-man, his countenance is of such loftinesse, that he seeks not: there is no God,
in all his purposes.
- 5 His wayes, in all time, wel-succeed;
on high thy judgements bee, about his sight: his pressing-foes, puffe at them all doth hee.
- 6 Within his heart he saith, I shall not be remov'd away;
for I shall not in evill be,
in any age for aye.
- 7 His mouth is full of cursing-oath,
and fraud and fallacie :
under his tongue, is mischief and
paine-full-iniquitie.
- 8 In wayting place of villages,
he sits; in secrecies
he murdereth the innocent:
for poore doe lurk his eyes.
- 9 He lyes in wayt in secret place,

as Lion

PSALM X.

- as Lion in his denn;
 he lyes in wayt, to snatch away
 the poor-afflicted men: th'afflicted-poor he snatcheth, him when to his net he drawes, 10 He stoups he bowes: that troupe of poore may fall, in his strong pawes.
 * 2 *
 11 Within his heart he saith, God doth forget: he hides-away
 his face, so that he will not see,
 unto perpetuall aye.
 12 Iehovah rise thou up; ô God, lift thou thine hand on hye:
 let not the meek afflicted men be out of memorye.
 13 O wherefore, doth the wicked man despight th' Almighty-one?
 he in his heart saith, thou wilt not make-inquisition.
 14 Thou lookest, for molesting-toyl and greevance thou dost see,
 to take the thing into thine hand:
 the poor leaves it to thee;
 Thou helper art of fatherlesse, 15 Break th' arme of wicked-one:
 and of the ev'll his wickednesse seek, till thou findest none.
 16 Iehovah King, for ever is
 and to continuall aye:
 out of his land, the heathen-men are perished away.
 17 The meek afflicted-mens desire, Iehovah thou doost heare:
 thou firmly dost prepare their heart, dost make-attent thine eare.
 18 To judge th'opprest and fatherlesse:
 that adde no more he may,
 that is fraylman, out of the earth,
 with-tespout to dismay,

PSALM II.

1 To the mayster of the musick, a Psalm of David;
Sing this as the 1 Psalm.

- IN Ichovah, hope-repose;
how (therefore) doe ye say unto my soule: as bird will your mountaine, flee-away?
- 2 For loe the wicked, bend the bow;
their shaft on string prepare:
to shoot even in the dark, at them in heart that upright are.
- 3 For the foundations, are cast down:
the just, what hath he done?
- 4 IAH, in his holy Pallace is IAH in the heaven his throne:
his eyes will view; his eye-lids proue,
the children of Adam.
- 5 Ichovah, will the just-man proue:
also the wicked-man,
His soule eke hateth him that loues wrongfull-transgression.
- 6 Vpon the wicked he will rayn, even inares; fire and brimston, and wind of burning stormes, this shall
the part of their cup bee.
- 7 For just is IAH, he justice loues:
his face, the right, will see.

PSALME XII

1 To the mayster of the musick upon the eight; a Psalm of David.

Sing this as the 50 Psalm

- SAUE LORD, for godly-man is at an end:
for faithfull-ones, from Adams sons, decay.
- 3 They speak vain lyes, each-man with his next friend:
with flatering lip, with heart and heart speak they.
- 4 The Lord cut of, all lipps of smoothed flattery:
the tongue, that speaketh arrogantly great things.

5 Which

PSALM XII. XIII.

- 5 Which sayd-haue; with our tongue we will prevail, our lips are ours: who Lord is over us?
- 6 For the afflicted-poare mens wastfull-spoyl, for needy-poor mens groning pitteous:
now will I rise, the LORD sayth; in salvation
I will him set, he shall haue respiration.
- 7 The sayings of the LORD, are sayings pure:
as silver tride, in earthen choice-fornace; fined sev'n times. Thou Lord wilt them keep-sure:
wilt him preserve, for ever, from this race.
- 9 On ev'ry side, the wicked-ones have walked;
when vilence is of Adams sons exalted.

PSALME 13.

1 To the mayster of the musick, a Psalm of David.

Ow long Ichovah, wilt thou me forget for aye:

how long while wilt thou hide, thy face from me away? How long shall, in my soule, I counsels set; daily sad sorrow in my heart: how long shall my foe be exalted, aboue me?

Ichovah

PSALM XIII XIII.

Iehovah ô my God,
 behold me answer make :
 illuminate mine eyes,
 lest sleep of death me take.
 Lest that my foe doe say:
 gainst him prevail'd haue I:
 mine aduersaries they exult will glad-somely, when moved be shal I.

But I, I doe repose.
 assured trustfulness
 in thy mercy, my heart, shal shew forth glad-somnesse
 in thy salvation :
 I sing will-cherefullie unto th Eternall-one;
 for, bounteously hath hee rewarded unto mee.

PSALME 14.

I To the maister of the musick, a Psalm of David,

Sing this as the 7 Psalm.

THE foolish-man saith in his heart,

 Iehovah, looked-down from heaven's if any that doth-understand, that seeketh God, there-bee,

 All is-away departed, they become are all-at one unprofitable : none doth good ;
 none, no-not any-one.
 Doe they not know, even-all that work painfull-inquitie :
 that eat my folk, as they eat bread;
 ro IAH, they doe not crie.

and in his heart speakes truth.
- 3 That slandereth not with his tongue;
none ill to his friend doth:
nor 'gainst his neighbour, takes reproach.

that giue an other dower:
their powred-out-offrings of blood
I will not ~~them~~ out-power:
neither will I, upon my lips,
the names of them take up.
- 5 Iehovah, is the portion of my part and my cup:
Thou, art susteyner of my lot.

in pleasant places: yea fayre is which hath me counselled:

 that when I wake, fild with thine image be.

PSALME. 18.

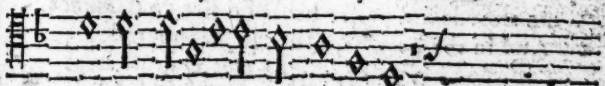

1 To the mayster of the musick, a Psalme of the servant of Iehovah, of David; which speake to Iehovah, the words of this song; in the day, that Iehovah had delivered him, from the palm of all his enemies: and from the hand of Saul. 2 And he sayd;

Loue thee-deer, Iehovah my firmnesse.

3 Iehovah is my Rock and my fottresse;

and my deliverer my God is he.

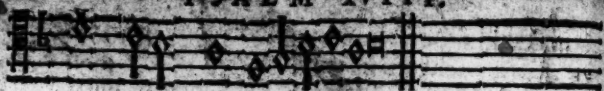

my Rock, in whom I sheltred hope to bee:

my shield and horn, of my salvation;

B 3

my

my fenced-hye-fortification.

- 4 Vnto the prayfed LORD I made my cries:
and I was faved from myne enemies.
- 5 The pangs of death about me compaffed:
and me the freams of Belial frighted,
- 6 The pangs of hell they round about me went:
the fnares of death, did me unwares-prevent.
- 7 In the diftrefle upon me, call did I.
upon Iehovah, and to my God cry:
and he my voice out of his pallace heares;
my cry; before him, came into his eares.
- 8 And th'earth, did shake and quake; and stirred bee grounds of the mounts:& shook, for wroth was he.
- 9 Smoke mounted, in his wrath; and fire did eat out of his mouth:coles, from it burnd-with-heat.
- 10 And he did bow the heav'ns, and down-did paffe;
and gloomy-darkenes, under his feet was.
- 11 And he did ride on Cherub, and did fly:
and on wings of the wind, he flew-swiftly.
- 12 He fet the darknes, for his fecret bound;
for his pavilion about-him-round:
darkenefle of waters, thick-crowds of the fkyes.
- 13 From the refplendent-brightneffe, 'fore his eyes:
his clouds did paffe: hayl and fire coals burned.
- 14 And in the heav'ns, Iehovah, thondered:
And giue his voice, did he that is moft-hye:
the hayl ftones, and the coals of fire did flye.
- 15 He fent his arrowes, and them fattered;
and hurled lightnings, & them froke-with dread.
- 16 And channels of the waters were beheld:
the worlds foundations, were eke reveal'd:
At thy rebuke Iehovah; at the bla ft, of winde that from thy wrathfull-nofthrill paft.
- 17 He from the hye-place fent, take me did hee:
he out of many waters, forth-drew me.
- 18 He rid me from my powerfull enemy:

PSALM. xviij.

and from my foes, that stronger were than I.

* 2 *

- 19 They unawares preventing came on mee,
in day of my cloydy calamitie:
and for a staffe to me, Iehovah was:
- 20 And also he unto a roomthy-place,
did bring me forth: he safely-me-releas'd;
because, he was delightfull in me pleas'd.
- 21 IAH did reward me as my justice-right:
as my hands purenesse, he did me requite.
- 22 Because Iehovahs wayes I did obserue:
and did not from my God, ungodly-swerue.
- 23 For all his judgements straight-before me bee:
and his decrees, I turned not from me.
- 24 And I with him did hold integritie:
and kept my selfe, from mine iniquitie.
- 25 The LORD eke rendred me as my justice:
as purenesse of my hands, before his eyes.
- 26 With gracious-saint, thee gracious shew dost thou with perfect man, thou dost thee perfect show.
- 27 Thou with the pure dost shew thy purity:
and with the froward, thou dost shew thee wry.
- 28 For poore afflicted people saue dost thou:
the lofty eyes, thou also bringest low.
- 29 For thou dost make my candle to be light:
Iehovah my God, makes my darkenes bright.
- 30 For by thee, through an armie breake I shall:
and by my God I leaped over a wall.
- 31 Gods way entyre, tride is the word of IAH:
a shield he is to all that on him stay.
- 32 For who is God, besides th'Eternall-one:
and who a Rock, except our God alone.
- 33 God, is he that with valour girdeth me:
and fully-perfect, makes my way to be.
- 34 My feet he matcheth, as the hindes feet: and on myne hye-places, he doth make me stand.
- 35 My hands he learneth, to the warlike-stroke:
And with mine armes, a bow of brasse is broke:
- 36 And thou hast giv'n me, thy salvations shield:

PSALM xviii

and thy right hand, hath strongly-me-upheld:
also thy meek-humiliation, hath caused-me-multiplication.

37 Thou hast my passage under me wid'nied:
and my legges, have not weakly-staggered.

* 3 *

38 My foes I follow'd, and them overgot:
and till I had consum'd them, turned not.

39 I wounded them, and up they could not get:
they down-did fall, even underderneath my feet.

40 And thou didst gird-me-in-a-readynes unto the warre, with active-valiantnes: Thou causedst hast, under me down to stoupe them that against me haue arisen up.

41 Neck of my foes, thou also gavest mee:
and I suppress't them that my haters bee.

42 They cried-out but there was none to saue:
to IAH, but he no answer to them gaue.

43 And them, as dust before the winde, I bray'd:
as clay of streets, I powring-out-them-lay'd.

44 Thou hast me given-late evasion.
from peoples manifold coptention:
thou hast me put the heathens head to be,
a people, which I knew not, serveth mee.

45 At hearing of the eare, they me obey:
the strangers sonns, falsly to me deny.

46 Sonnes of the stranger, fading-withered:
and did out of their closets, shrinke-for-dread.

47 Iehovah liue, and my Rock blessed bee:
and God of my health, hye-extoll'd be hee.

48 God he that giveth to me vengeance:
and doth the peoples under me de Presse.

49 My safe deliv'rer, from myne enemies:
also from them that up against me rise, thou hast exalted me; hast rid me free,
from man of violent iniquitee.

50 Therefore, Iehovah, I with-thankfulnesse. will thee among the nations confesse.
and I unto thy name a Psalme will sing.

PSALM XIX.

- 51 Great maketh he, saluations of his King :
and unto his Anoynted, doth mercy ;
to David and his seed; eternally.

PSALME 19.

- 1 To the mayster of the musick; a Psalm of David.

Sing this as the 22, or as the 1 psalme.

THe heav ns, doe tell the glory of God:
and firmament doth preach

3 work of his hands. Day unto day.

doth largely utter speach:

and night to night, doth knowledge shew.

- 4 No speech, and words are none:

- 5 their voyce it is not heard. Their line, through all the earth is gone:

and to the worlds end, their speakings:
in them he did dispose,

- 6 tent for the Sun. Who bridegroome-like,
out of his chamber goes:

joyes strong-man like, to runne a race.

- 7 From heavens end, his egressse;
and his regresse to th'ends of them:
hid from his heat, none is.

- 8 Iehovahs Law, it perfect is.
the soule againe turning:
Iehovahs witnesse faithfull is.
the simple wise-making.

- 9 Iehovahs charges, righteous are giving hearts glad delight: Iehovahs precept it is pure, giving the eyes cleare-light.

- 10 Iehovahs rev'rend-fear, is cleane, abiding still for aye:

Iehovahs judgements veritie;
together, just are they.

- 11 Than gold, than much fine-gold, they are to be desired, more:

and sweeter then the honey is,
or honey-combs liquor.

PSALM. xix. xx.

- 22 Also thy servant, is by them admonished clearly :
in keeping them, is much reward.
- 23 Errours who can discry?
from secret ~~errours~~ cleanse thou me.
- 24 Thy servant eke restreyn from ~~sinnes~~ presumptuous; o let them not within me reigne, then shall I perfect be; and cleans'd,
from much transgression.
- 25 O let the words of my mouth, be to acceptation ;
and meditation of my heart
before the face of thee; Iehovah, my almighty Rock and my Redeemer-free.

PSALME 30.

- 1 To the maister of the musick, a Psalm of David,
Sing this as the 48 Psalme.

- THE LORD eternall answer thee, in day of streight-adversitee :
the name of Iakobs mighty-God, set thee upon a refuge hye.
Send thy help from the sanctuarie:
from Sion giue thee sure-abode.
- 4 He all thy gifts in mind-up-lay:
thy offering, ashes-make Selah.
- 5 As thy heart craves, giue thee the same :
and all thy counsell he fulfill.
- 6 In thy salvation, shewt we will;
and banners-reare, in our Gods name;
All thy requests fulfill-doe IAH.
- 7 Now doe I know, that Iehovah, he saveth his Anoynted-one;
out of his heav'ns of sanctitie,
he answereth him: with powers-mightie, his righ-hands safe-salvation.
- 8 Of charrets these, of horses thay :

PSALM xx. xxx.

but of the name of our God IAH

9 we mention make. They stoup and fall :
but rise, and stand-upright doe we.

10 Iehovah saue-thou: the King, he us answer in the day wee call.

PSALME 21.

1 To the mayster of the musick; a Psalm of David.

Ehovah in thy strength the King shall joyful bee : and in thy safe salvation , how vch'ment glad is hee;

3 Thou unto him hast given, that which his heart did pray :
and th'earnest-asking of his lips, hast not kept back Selah.

4 For thou preventest him , with blessings of goodnesse :
thou settest on his head, a crown of gold-of preciousnesse.

5 Life, he did aske of thee, to him thou gavest-it :
even length of dayes, & eternitie and to continuance yet.

6 Great hath his honour been,
in thy salvation :
glory and comely dignitie, thou puttest him upon.

7 For blessings thou hast set him

PSALM XXX. XXXI.

- him to perpetuall aye:
even with thy face, thou makest him cherefull to be with joy.
- 8 For, in Iehovah, doth
 the King put trust: and hee, through mercie of the Highest-one,
 shall not removed bee.
- 9 Thine hand shall finde-out, all that are thine enemies:
even thy right hand, shall find-out them that thee with-hate envies,
- 10 At time of thy fierce-face, them as an oven of fire thou wilt dispose: Iehovah, wil them swallow in his yre:
 and fyre shall eat them-up,
- 11 Thou wilt the fruit of them
 stroy from the earth: also their seed, from sonnes of earthly-men,
- 12 For they intended haue an evill-thing 'gainst thee:
 a craftie-purpose they haue thought,
 but shall not able bee.
- 13 Because, thou wilt them set even as a shouldring but:
 against their faces, with thy strings, wilt ready-make to shoot.
- 14 Iehovah in thy strength doe high thy-self advance:
 and we will sing and praise-with-psalm, thy powerfull puissance.

PSALME 22.

To the mayster of the musick concerning the hind of the morning; a Psalm of David.

My God o my God, wherefore hast thou for-taken

PSALM CXII.

faken me: art far from my saluation, words of my roring-crie? O my God I doe call by day, and thou not answerest: also by night, and unto me there is do silent rest.

- 4 And thou holy: abideft still,
the prayfes of Iſr'el.
- 5 Our fathers trusted thee: trusted;
thou them deliv'redft well.
- 6 Vnto thee they did cry out, and were ſafe delivered:
in thee, they trusted and were not
with baſhfulneſſe ſhamed.
- 7 But I a ~~woman~~ woman and not a man:
the vile-reproch am I of earthly-men, of people eke deſpiſ'd contemptuouſly.
- 8 All they that doe upon me looke,
a ſcoffe at me doe make:
they with the lip doe make a ſnow,
the head they ſcornefull-ſhake.
- 9 Vnto Iehovah truſt he did,
let him now rid him quite:
let him deliver him; becauſe,
in him he doth delyte.
- 10 But it is thou that me out of that madest me to trust-secure, even at my mothers brest.

- 11 Vnto thee from the tender womb committed been haue I:
even from my mothers belly, thou hast been my God-mightie.
- 12 O be not thou therefore from me farre-off away now gone;
for sorrowfull-distresse is neer:
for helper there is none.
- 13 The many bullocks, haue me roundabout-encompassed:
the mightie bulls; of Basan haue me round-invironed.
- 14 Vpon me they their mouthes haue set open-gapingly:
like to a Lion ravening and-roaring-terribly.
- 15 As waters I am spilt; and all my bones dispart-themselues:
my heart is like the waxe: it melts,
in midds of my bowels.
- 16 Mine able-strength, as potsherd, is dride; and my tongue, cleaveth unto my jawes, and thou hast brought me down to dust of death.
- * * *
- 17 For dogs, haue compast me about:
the crew of men perverse, inclosed me: my hands and feet,
they lion-like-did pierse.
- 18 My bones I may them number all:
they lookt, they did mee view.
- 19 My cloths among them they did part:
and lot, for my cote, threw.
- 20 And thou LORD, bee not farr: my strength; unto mine help make-speed.
- 21 My soule from sword; my lonely-soule,

from

PSALM xxxi.

- from dogs hands, safely-rid.
22 And from the rentings-Lions mouth, give me salvation free:
and from the horns of unicorns, thou answer gavest mee:
23 Of thy name to my brethren I will make narration:
I will thee praise, in midst of the congregation.
24 Ye that be fearers of the LORD, him praise, him honour well all Iakobs seed, and dread ye him, all seed of Israel.
25 For, he the poors affliction, abhorrers not, nor despise;
nor hides his face from him, but heares,
when unto him he cries.
26 Of thee, shalbe my praise, within the congregation large:
before them that him reverence,
my vowes I will discharge.
27 The meeke shall eat, and be sufficed: Iehovah praise shall they,
that doe him seek: your hart, shall live
unto perpetuall-aye.
28 All ends of the earth, remember shall,
and turn Iehovah too:
and all the heathens families,
fore thee shall worship doe.
29 Because unto Iehovah, doth the kingdom appertain:
and he among the nations
is ruler-soveraign.
30 All they that in the earth be far,
shall eat and worship doo:
low-bend before him, shall they all that to the dust down goe:
And he that quickneth not his soule, 31 To him serve shall their seed:

for a generation shall be to the LORD counted.

- 22 Come shall they, and his justice shall
by them declared bee:
unto a folk that shall be born;
that done the same hath bee.

PSALME 37.

1 A Psalm of David.

Sing this as the 8 Psalm.

- Iehovah feedeth me, I shall not lack.
2 In grassy folds he down doth make me ly:
he gently-leads me, quier waters by.
3 He doth return my soule: for his names sake, in paths of justice leads me quietly.
4 Yea, though I walke, in dale of deadly shade, ile fear none ill; for with me thou wilt bee:
thy rod thy staff eke, they shall comfort me.
5 Fore me, a table thou hast ready-made;
in their presence that my distreßers be:
Thou makest fat mine head with ointing-oile;

shall all the daies of my life follow me;
also within Iehovahs house, I shall to length of daies, repose-me quietlie.

and in his place of holynes,
who is he that shall stand?
- 4 The cleane in hands, and pure in heart;
that to false-vanitie doth not lift up his soule; and doth not swear to fallacie.

a benediction:
and iustice, from the mighty-God of his salvation.

that make inquirie for thy face;
this Iakob is Selah.

be lifted up: that so the King of glorie, enter-may.
- 8 This King of glorie, who is he?
Iehovah, puissant and valiant; Iehovah, he in battel valiant.

PSALME 25.

1 A Pſalme of David.

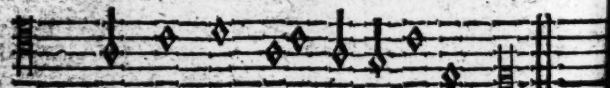

Lift my ſoule, Iehovah unto thee.

- 2 My God, in thee my truſt I doe reſt,

O let me not with ſhame-abashed bee :

ſhew gladneſſe-over-me, let not my foes.

- 3 Yea all that doe expect thee earneſtly, but they ſhall be abashed ſhamefully, thar doe in vaine unfaithfully-transgreſſe.

4 Thy wayes Iehovah, make thou mee diſcerne;
thy pathes, me learn by information.
5 Make me to tread in thy truth; and me learn;
for thou the God of my ſalvation;
I earneſtly-expect thee, al the day.
6 Remember thy compaſſionate-mercies;

and thy kind-mercies to eternall-IAH:
for, they have bene even from eternities.

- 7 The finnes of my youth, and my trespases, remember not thou: but remember me Iehovah, for thy bountifull-goodnes, according to thy loving kind mercie.
- 8 Good is Iehovah, righteous also :
therefore will he teach, sinners in the way.
- 9 He will the meek, in judgement make to know and learn he will, the lowly-meek his way.
- 10 Mèrcie and truth Iehovahs paths all are :
to them that keep his league, and witnesses.
- 11 For thy name LORD: thou mercifully-spare wilt mine iniquitie; for much it is.
- 12 Who is the man, that doth Iehovah feare?
him will he teach, in way that he shall-chuse.
- 13 His soule, in good shall lodging-persevere :
His seed the land for-heritage shall use,
- 14 The secret of Iehovah, he doth grant to them that him with feare-doe-reverence :
also his testamentall covenant,
to make them for to haue-intelligence.

for from the net my feet he will restore.
- 16 Vnto me turne, and gracious be to mee;
for I alone am, and afflicted-poor.
- 17 Distresses of my heart enlarged bee:
bring thou me forth, from my vexations.
- 18 My trouble, and my molestation see ;
and pardon, all mine aberrations.
- 19 Behold my foes for mutiplyde are thay :
and doe, with hate most-violent, hate me.
- 20 Keep thou my soule, and rid me free-away :
Iham'd be I not, for I doe hope in thee.
- 21 Keep me let rightnes and perfection :
for, I doe thee expect-with earnestnes.
- 22 O God, giue Israel redemption :
from all his strait-afflicting-anguishes,

PSALME XXVI. XXVII.

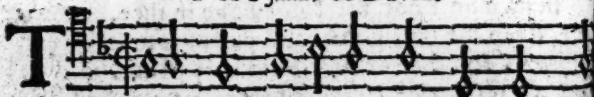

1 A Psalm of David.

Sing this as the 5, or as the 100. Psalm.

- Iudge me Iehovah: for I goe in my perfect-simplicite ;
I in Iehovah trust also;
I shall not slide unstedfastlie,
- 2 Iehovah proue, tempt me likewise :
my reins and my heart, dog thou trie,
- 3 For thy mercie, before mine eyes :
and I walk, in thy veritie.
- 4 I sit not, with vaine mortall-men :
nor enter, with dissemblers hid.
- 5 I hate, church of malignant men:
and doe not sit, with the wicked.
- 6 My hands with cleannes wash I-cleare:
and L O R D, I compasse thine altar.
- 7 With voice of thanks, to cause to heare:
and all thy marvells, to declare.
- 8 Iehovah the safe-mann sho of thine house, dearly-loue doe I : place, of the habitation of thy most glorious-majestic.
- 9 My soule with sinners, gather not:
nor with bloud-guiltie men my life.
- 10 In whose hands a mischievous plot:
whose right-hand, is with bribes ful-rise,
- 11 And I, walk in my perfectnesse:
redeeme and use-me graciously.
- 12 My foot, doth stand in righteousness :
in churches, blesse the LORD will I.

- 3 If that an host, against me pitch ;
my heart unfearefull is :
if warre shall up against me rise ;
I boldly trust in this.
- 4 One-thing I asked of the LORD, the same request I shall :
that in the Lords house I may dwell,
the dais of my life all :
to view, Iehovahs pleasantesse;
and seek in his pallace.
- 5 For he in his pavilion,
will privily me place,
in th'evil day: he will me keep-secret, in secrecie
of his tent: and upon a rock,
he will exalt me-hie.
- 6 And now, lift up shalbe mine head,

and I will offer in his tent, offerings of shewing-glee:

 when I call; and be gracious for my face seek doe yee:

 thy face, Iehovah doe I seek.
 9 Hide not, thy face from mee;
 turn not thy servant back, in wrath:
 my succour been hast thou:
 ô God of mine health, leaue me not neither forsake me now.
 10 My father and my mother both though they should me forsake:
 yet would Iehovah gathering-unto himselfe me take.
 11 Iehovah teach thou me, thy way;
 and my conductor be,
 in path of righteousness: because,
 of them that envie me.
 12 Giue not me, to my foemens will:
 for, lying witnesses doe up against me stand, and he that breatheth violence.
 13 I fainted had, except I had beleeeved, for to see Iehovahs goodnesse; in the land of them that living be.
 14 Expect Iehovah earnestly; confirmed bee, and strong-think for Iehoyah long.

PSALME. 28.

A Psalme of David.

 lest thou be mute from me: and I them that goe down the pit, like be.

- 2 Voice of my suits-for-grace heare thou, when unto thee I out-doe-erie :
when I lift up mine hands, unto thine oracle of sanctitie.
- 3 Draw not thou me with men gracelesse, and with them that work pain-full sin:
that with their neighbours speak of peace,
and malice, is their heart within.
- 4 Giue thou to them as is their fact,
as is their practises offence :
giue them, as is their handie act :
render, to them their recompence,
- 5 Because, they no intentive-heed unto Iehovahs works imploy ;
neither unto his handie deed:
he will not build them, but destroy.
- 6 IAH blessed be; for he hath heard,
the voice of my requests for grace.
- 7 IAH, is my strength and shield, my heart trusted in him, and help I was ?
My heart therefore shewes gladshomenesse;
and Ile confesse him with my song,
- 8 IAH is their strength : and forte he is of his Chosenes salvation.
- 9 O giue thy folk salvation-free;
and blesse thou thine inheritance :
and even unto eternitee, doe thou them feed and them advance.

PSALME 29.

A Psalm, of David.

Sing this as the 24 Psalm.

- O Giue unto Iehovah yee,
the sonnes of the mightie :
O giue unto Iehovah yee,
glorie and potencie.
- 2 O giue unto Iehovah yee,

bow to Iehovah down.
- 3 Iehovahs voice, on waters is,
thunder doth Gods honour; Iehovah, on waters many.
- 4 Iehovahs voice with powr:
Iehovahs voice with comelines.
- 5 Iehovahs voice, doth break
the Cedars: Lebanons Cedars, Iehovah quite-doth-break.
- 6 And like unto an heiffer-yong
he makes them up-to-spring:
the Lebanon and Shirjon mount,
like Vnicorns yongling.
- 7 Iehovahs voice strikes flames of fire.
- 8 Iehovahs voice doth make the desert quake: Iehovah makes the Cadesh desert quake.
- 9 Iehovahs voice, doth make the kindes to travel-tremblingly;
and bares the woods: in his Pallace,
each one doth say glorie.
- 10 At Floud, Iehovah sare: and King, Iehovah sits for aye.
- 11 IAH, gines his people strength: with peace
his people, blesse will IAH.

Thou hast kept me aliuē from them that down the pit doe goe.
- 5 Ye that are his Saints-gracious, sing psalme Iehovah to:
and unto the remembrance of his sanctitie confesse.
- 6 Because a moment, in his wrath;
life in his favour is:
Weeping shall lodge at even-tide,
but joy at morning-day.
- 7 and I said in my quiet-case:
I shall not moue for aye.
O LORD, thou in thy favour hast strength to my monnt seiled:
but thou didst hide-away thy face,
and I was fœn-troubled.
- 9 To thee Iehovah doe I call.
and aske Iehovah grace.
- 10 What profite in my bloud, when I goe-down to rotting-place?
shall dust confesse to thee, shall it shew-forth thy veritie?
- 11 Iehovah bear and shew-me-grace.
ô LORD, my helper bee.
- 12 My mourning thou converted hast,
to me into a dance:
my sack-cloth thou unloosed hast,
and girt me with joyance.
- 13 That, my glorie to thee may sing,
and may not silent bee:
Iehovah my God, I for aye

PSALME 31.

- 1 To the mayster of the musick, a Psalm of David.
Sing this as the 35 Psalme.

I Ehovah I for-safetic-hope in thee,

PSALM XXXI.

- thou in thy justice freely me-deliver.
- 4 To me, thine ear bow; speedilie rid me:
thou for a Rock of strength, unto me be;
Be for an house of forts, me for to saue.
- 5 For thou my Rock art and my fort fenced;
and for thy names sake, wilt me guide and lead.
- 6 Wilt bring me forth, from net that hid they haue for me: for thou, art my munition-safe.
- 6 Into thy hand, my spir't I doe depose:
LORD, God of truth, thou me didst free-redeem.
- 7 I hated haue, them that observers been of vanities of vain-deceitfull-glose;
and I doe in Iehovah trust repose.
- 8 I will be glad and joy, in thy mercie:
which hast beheld my troublesome-distresse;
hast known, my soule in painfull-anguishes.
- 9 Hast not me clos'd, in hand of th'enemie:
hast made my feet stand, in a plate roomthie.
- 10 LORD shew me grace, for I am straitly-pent:
mine eie, my soule my belly eke, is gnawn my yeares with sighing also, quite are spent:

my strength decayd, with my sinnes-punishment:
Allo my bones with gnawing-are-wasted.

Vnto my neighbours also veh'mently:
Vnto my known-acquaintance eke a dread;
seeing me in the street, from me they fled.

PSALME 34.

Y A Psalm of David; when he had changed his behaviour, before Abimelech: and he had driven him away, and he was gone.

N all time blesse the LORD will I, his pr'aise within my mouth, alway. 3 My soule shall in the LORD glorie: the meeke shall beare, and joy shall thay. 4 O magnifie the LORD with mee:

his name together, extoll we.

- 5 I sought IAH and he me answered:
and from my feares all, rid me free:
- 6 To him they looked and flowed:
and sham'd let not their faces be.
- 7 IAH heard when this poore-man did call:
and sav'd him, from his troubles all.
- 8 Iehovahs Angel camp-doth lay,
'bout them that feare him; and frees them.
- 9 Taste ye and see, that good is IAH:
O blessed-man, that hopes in him.

PSALM. XXXIV.

- 10 Feare ye Iehovah, Saints of his:
for to his fearers, want none is.

and they doe hunger greedilie:
but any good that they not want,
that seekers of Iehovah bee.
- 12 Come children, unto me giue eare:
I will you learne, Iehovahs feare.
- 13 Who is the man, that life doth-will:
that loveth daies, good for-to see?

thy lips, from speaking fallacee.

seek peace, and after it purslew.

and them, from all their troubles, rid.
- 19 To broken hearted, IAH is nye:
and contrite sp'rited, saue will hee.

PSALM XXXV.

PSALME 35.

A Psalm of David.

This may be sung also as the 2 Psalm.

Lead thou o LORD, with them that plead with me : warre against them that doe against me warr.

2 Layhold upon the shield & the bucklar : stand for mine help. 3 And spear and sword draw-free, to meet with them that my pursuers bee:

Say to my soule, I thy salvation am.

4 Let my soule seekers, bask'dt and shamed be:
turn'd back and blush; that evil think for me.

5 as chaffe before the wind, so be those same:
and th' Angel of Iehovah driving them.

6 Darknes and slippenes let be their way:
and th' Angel of the LORD them following.

7 Because they the corruption of their grin, without cause for me privily did lay:
without cause, digged for my soule haue they.

8 Let ruine come on him, unwarie hee

PSALM XXXV.

and catch him let his privie-hidden grin,
with wastful-ruine, let him fall therein.

9 And in Iehovah, glad my soule shal bee:
shall in his saving health have ioyful glee.

10 My bones shall all say, LORD, who is like thee:
That from his stronger, riddest-free the poore:
even poor and needy, from his spoiler-fere.

11 Cruel-false witnessles, up risen bee:
things that I knew not, they did aske of me.

12 Evil for good, they unto mee rendred: ev'n of my soule, the quite bereaving-lack.

13 And I, when they were sick, my cloth was sack;
my soule I have with fasting afflicted:
my prayer on my bolome eke turned.

14 As if a freind-familiar been he had
as if he had my brother been, I went:
as one that for his mother doth lament,
so bowed I me downe obscurely sad.

15 But when-as I did halt, then they were glad,
Also together-they-were gathered:
the smiters gainst me were together-come,
and I knew not: they rent and were not dumb.

16 With hypocrites, scoffers for cake-of-bread:
gainst me their teeth together they gnashed.

* 2 *

17 O Lord my States how long while-wilt thou see:
return my soule from their vastations:
my solitarie-soule from the Lions,

18 I in the great church, will confesse to thee:
I will thee praise, among a folk mightee.

19 O let not them that are with falsitie mine enemies, be joyfull over mee:
and they that without cause mine haters be,
let them not privilie-winke with the eye.

20 Because that they doe not speake-peaceablie:
And gainst them that the quiet of the earth be,
words of deceits they have imagined.

21 And have their mouth against me large-op'ned:
have said, aha aha, our eye doth see.

PSALM. XXXV. XXXVI.

32 O LORD thou see'st, silent-keep-not thee.

O Lord, from me farr-be-not-thine-abode.

33 Stir-up, and to my judgment thou awake:

my God, and my Lord unto my debate.

34 According to thy justice, LORD my God, judge me: and let them not at me be glad.

35 Aha our soule, let them in heart not say:

let them not say, we have him swallowed.

36 Together, 'bashed be they, and shamed, that joy at mine ill; clad with shame be they

and bashfulness, that 'gainst me magnifie.

37 Let them rejoyce and let them shout-with song, my justice that delight: and let them say,

Iehovah magnified be alway;

38 his servants peace, that liketh. And my tongue, shall sound thy justice: thy praise, all day-long.

PSALME 36.

1 To the mayster of the musick, a Psalm of David,
the servant of Iehovah.

Sing this as the 27 Psalm.

THe trespass of the wicked man saith-in-assured-wise,

even in my hart: that dread of God is not before his eyes:

2 For flatteringly-perswade himself in his-own eyes doth hee:

3 to find-out his iniquity that hated ought to bee.

The words of his mouth, are deceit and vain iniquitie:

4 for to doe good he hath left-off his prudence to applie.

Iniquitie, upon his bed,

he purposely-doth-muse:

5 he sens himself, on way not good:

he ev'l doth not refuse.

Iehovah, in the heavens is

PSALM. XXXVI. XXXVII.

thy bountifull mercie:

thy constant faithfulness doth reach unto the highest skye.

7 Thy justice, as the mounts of God:
thy judgments, a great deep: Iehovah, thou dost man and beast in healthful-safety-keepe.

8 How precious is thy mercie, when Adams sonns, o God, within the shadow of thy wings doe hope for safe-abode.

9 They shall with fatnes of thy house have plentiful-moistures:
and thou wilt give them for to drink,
the stream of thy pleasures.

10 Because with thee, the well of life;
in thy light, light we see.

11 Extend thy mercifull-kindnes, unto them that know thee:
thy justice eke, to right of heart.

12 Let not the foot of pride, come on me; and the wickeds hand,
not make me move aside.

13 There have they fallen-down, that doe iniquitie practise:
they have been thrust-downe, & have not abilitie to rise.

PSALME 37.

1 A Psalm, of David;

This may be sung also as the 97 or 119 Psalm.

Refrain not thy selfe for them that evill doon:

envie not, them that doe injuriousnesse:

2 For as the grasse, cut down they shalbe soon:

and fade, even-as the budding-herbs greenesse.

- 3 Doe good, and in Iehovah trust secure:
inhabite thou the land, and feed on faith.
- 4 And in Iehovah take thou thy pleasure:
and he wil giue thee, that which thy heart pray th.
- 5 Vpon Iehovah turne thy way aright:
and trust on him, and he will see-it-down.
- 6 And will bring-forth thy justice as the light:
and thy judgement, as the bright-shining-noon.
- 7 Vpon Iehovah, with meek-silence stay:
and for him wayt thou still-with-patience:
fret not, for him that prospreth in his way;
for man that doth effect his purposes.
- 8 Surcease from wrath, and leave-off anger-hot:
fret not thy selfe, eke to doe nauineffe.
- 9 For they that naughtie-down, shall down be cut:
and they thar wait on IAH, shall land possesse.
- 10 And yet a while, and wicked shall not be:
and thou shalt mark, and he not in his place.
- 11 And meek men, shall the land inherit-free:
and in much peace they shall themselves solace.
- 12 The wicked doth against the just devise:
and doth against him, gnashing grind his teeth.
- 13 The Lord he doth him laughingly-despite:
for, that his day a comming is, he seeth.
- 14 Draw sword, & bend their bow do wicked-men:
to sell the poore and needie; for to slay the right-of way. Their sword, shall enter in their heart: their bowes eke, broken be shall they.
- 16 The little of a just man better is:
then manie wicked-mens wealth-manifold.

17 For broke shalbe the armes of men-gracelesse:
where as the just, Iehovah doth uphold.

18 Iehovah knowes, the daies of perfect-men;
and their inheritance, shalbe for-aye.

19 In the evill time they shall not bashed been:
in daies of hunger, haue enough shall they.

20 But, perish shall the men-ungracious;
the enemies eke of Iehovah, shall,
be like unto the rammes fat-precious:
they are consum'd, with smoke consumed-all.

21 The wicked borroweth, and doth not pay:
and just-man, sheweth-grace and giue doth he.

22 For his blessed, possesse the land shall thay:
and his accursed-ones, cut-off shalbe.

23 Mans steps are, by Iehovah, stablisht-fast:
and he his way affects delightfully.

24 When he shall fall, he shall not off be cast:
because Iehovah, holds his hand firmly.

25 I haue been yong, am old: yet never see,
the just forsaken; and his seed seek bread.

26 All day, deale-graciously and lend doth hee:
and in the blessing, bides his after seed.

27 Shun evill, and doe good: and dwell for aye.

28 For IAH, doth judgement loue; and leaveth his gracious-saints, for ever kept are thay:
whereas seed of the wicked, is off-cut.

29 The just men they shall by-inheritancehaue of the land rightfull-possession, and to perpetuall continuance,
they shall therein haue habitation.

30 The just-mans mouth, doth wisdom forth impa also his tongue, the rightfull-judgement speakes

31 The law of his God is within his heart:
his foot it shall not stagger in his steps.

32 The wicked, for the just, doth spyall-stand; and seeketh, him by death, for-to-oppresse.

33 Iehovah will not leaue him in his hand:
neither condemne him, when he judged is.

PSALM, XXXVII. XXXVII.

- 34 Wait for Iehovah with continuance,
and keep his way, and he exalt will thee,
for to possesse the land by heritance:
when cut-off are the wicked, thou shalt see.
- 35 I haue the wicked seen, dismaying-fore, and spreading-forth himselfe, as laurel greene.
- 36 He passit-away, and loe he ~~was~~ no more:
and I him sought, but found he hath not been.
- 37 Obserue the perfect, and the right'ous see:
for th'after-end of that man shalbe peace.
- 38 But trespassers destroy'd together bee:
the after-end of wicked, cut-off is.
- 39 And just mens saving-health, of IAH proceeds: 40 their strength in time of need. And IAH helps the and riddes them freely: from the wicked riddes, and saveth them; because they hope in him.

PSALME 38.

1 A Psalm of David; for to record.

Sing this as the 18 Psalm.

- Iehovah, in thy wrath rebuke not me:
neither chastice me in thine angrie-heat.
- 3 For into me stuck-deep thine arrows be:
and thou thy hand upon me down dost let,
- 4 For thy threat in my flesh is no soundnes:
for my sin, in my bones there is no peace.
- 5 For, my misdeeds are over my head gone:
as weightie lode, too weightie for me-is.
- 6 My stripes doe stinck; rot with corruption:
because of mine unditcrest, foolishnes.
- 7 I crooked am, am bow'd down vehemently:
I all the day, doe walk sad-mournfully.
- 8 For full my flanks are of sore-serventnes:
and in my flesh, there is no intire-part.
- 9 I weak'ned am and crush'd with veh'mentnes:
I rore-out, for the groning of my heart.
- 10 O Lord, my whole desire is thee before:
and hid from thee, is not my sighing-fore.
- 11 My heart doth pant, my force hath me forsook:

PSALM XXXVIII. XXXIX.

and mine eyes light, ev'n they with me not are.

22 My lovers, and my friends, stand from my stroke;
my neighbours eke, doe stand removed - farre.

23 Snares also set they - that my soule doe seek;
and they that seek mine ill doe mischiefs speak :

All day deceits they meditating - plot.

24 And I as deafe man am, I doe not heare; and as one mute, his mouth that openeth not.

25 And am ev'n as a man which gives not ear:
and in whose mouth, no reprehensions be.

26 Because Iehovah I doe wait for thee:

O Lord my God, an answer - thou wilt - grant.

27 For I did say, left at me joy - doe they:

when my foot mooves, do 'gainst me greatly - vant,

28 For I to halt am readie : and alway.

29 'fore me my pain is. For I doe declare my viciounesse: and for my sin shew - care.

20 And my foes, living mightie - are: and they are many, that me hate for cause - untrue.

21 And they that evill doe for good repay :
are adverse to me, for I good pursue.

22 I AH leave me not : my God be not from me,

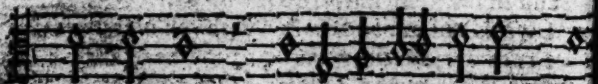

23 O Lord, my health : to my help hasten thee.

dumb, from good I silent was : my smart was also stirred troublously : 4 Hot in me was mine heart :

Fire in my meditation burn'd :

I with my tongue did speake.

5 Iehovah, make me know mine end :

what my daies measure eke :

know let me how short liv'd I am.

6 Loe, thou hast given my daies as handbreadths, and my wordly-time

'fore thee as nothing weighs :

Sure wholly vain is ev'rie man though sealed fast Selah.

7 Sure in an image, walke doth man ;

surely vain sturre make they :

one heaps up goods, and knoweth not who shall their gath'rer bee.

8 And now what doe I look for Lord ?

my longing is for thee.

9 Free me from all my trespasses :

fooles mockage make not me.

10 I dumb am, open not my mouth :

for done it is of thee.

11 From upon me, thy scourging plague, turn away the same ;

for by the striking of thine hand,

I quite consumed am.

12 With reproofs for iniquitie, a man thou chastifest;

and makest melt even as a moth
his beautie-liked-best:

Sure all men vanitie Selah.

13 Lord hear my pray'r, and crie;

for stranger with thee I:

a pilgrim as my fathers all.

PSALME 40.

1 To the mayster of the musick; Davids Psalme
Sing this as the 32. Psalme.

WAYting I wayted patiently for Iehovah: and he did bend unto me, and did heare my crie.

3 And he did make me to ascend out of the dreadfull-sounding pit, out of the myre of muddinesse:
and on a rock, set fast my feet;
ordred my steps with stedinesse.

4 And he hath giv'n my mouth into,
a new song; to our God a praise:
many shall see shall fear also;
and in Iehovah trust alwaies.

5 O blessed man, he that doth put Iehovah, his securitie.
and to the proud respecteth not;
or them that turn unto a lye.

6 Thou makest thy works marvellous, O Lord my God, many to be,
and thy thoughts minded; towards us:
none can in order-count to thee;
would I declare and speake of these,
moe then to tell, increast they are.

7 Thou would'st not, gift and sacrifice:
mines ears, thou, opening dost prepare:

PSALM. XL.

Burnt-offring and oblation for sinne; thou hast not asked it.

8 Then did I say, loe I am come :
in the books roll it's of me writ.

9 I joy to doe thy will my God :
and thy law, in my bowels is.

10 I in the great Church, tell abroad-
the joy-full-tidings of justice;

Loe I my lips haue not closed ;

11 O Lord, thou know'st. Within my heart thy justice I haue not cov'ed :

thy constant-faith I haue declar'd,
and thy healthfull-salvation:

Conceale I did not thy mercie , to the great congregation,
and thine assured-veritie.

* 2 *

12 Doe not thy mercies pitifull close up from me, O Iehovah ;
but let thy mercie bountifull and thy truth, me preserve alway.

13 For evils moe then can be told, haue round-about assayled mee :
my crooked sinnes on me take hold,
and I not able am to see :

They doe surmount hairens of my head :
also my heart doth me forsake

14 Vouchsafe Iehovah, me to rid:
speed to mine help Iehovah make .

15 Let them abasht be, and haue shame together, that thee seekers are of my soule, to consume the same:
let them be back-turned-farre;

And blush let them, that would my blame,

16 Quite-delolated let them be,
for a rewarding of their shame:
that say, aha aha, to mee.

17 Ioy let them and rejoyce in thee, all that doe seek thee, let them say my help and my deliverour thou art, my God; doe not delay.

PSALME 41.

1 To the mayster of the musick; a Psalm of David.

Sing this as the 39 Psalme.

O Blessed, he that to the poore doth prudently-attend:
Iehovah, him in th'will day deliverance will lend.
3 IAH, will him keep and giue-him-life, he blessednesse shall finde upon the earth: and glue him not, unto his foemens mind.
4 Iehovah, he will him uphold,
on sorrowfull bedsted:
thou in his sick infirmitie,
hast turned all his bed.
5 Say did I, O Iehovah shew unto me graciousnesse:
heale thou my soule, for against thee
I sinned haue amisse.
6 Mine enemies, of me said evl:
when shall his dying bee,
and his name perish quite-away?
7 And if he comes to lee;
he speaks a vain-lie in his heart iniquitie he heaps unto himselte: he goeth forth, abroad the same he speakes.
8 Together, gainst me whisper doe all that my haters be:
against me, they malicious. ill
doe thinke concerning me.

PSALM XLII. XLII.

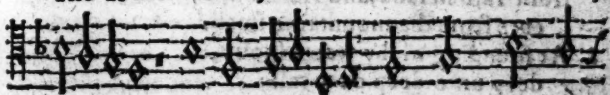

- 9 Some diuillish-mischieuous thing
in him is fastned fore:
and he that lyeth shall not adde to rise up any more.
- 10 The man moreover of my peace,
in whom put-trust did I,
that eates my bread: he hath the heel against me lifted-hye.
- 11 And therefore thou be gracious to me, O Iehovah, and raise me up againe: and I shall unto them repay.
- 12 By this I know that in me thou doest willing pleasure take:
because mine enemy shall not against me triumph-make.
- 13 And I, in mine integritie thou me susteyned hast:
and hast me to eternitie
before thy face set fast.
- 14 Blessed, Iehovah Isr'els God hath from eternall been;
and to eternall aye so be;
Amen, yea-and Amen.

PSALM XLII.

God, my soule is thirsteth fore : o when shall I come, and appeare, the face of God before !

- 4 My weeping teares have been to mee for bread, both night and day :
while unto mee where is thy God,
they all the day doe say.
- 5 These things doe I in-mind-record, and on my self out-shed my verie soule ; because I had among the throng passed ;
Gods house, with them I did frequent :
with voice of shouting- glee and thank-ful praise, with multitude keeping festivitie.
- 6 My soule, o wherefore dost thou bow thy self down heavily ;
and wherefore in me makest thou

with hopeful expectation waite thou for God, because yet I shall him confesse : for the salvations of his face.

for, thee to mind I call,
from Iarden land, and Hermonim, even from the mountaine small.
- 8 At sounding of thy water-spouts, deep unto deep doth call :
thy waves passe over me, and eke thy breaking-billowes-all.

his mercy, and with mee his song by night: a prayer, shall to God of my life bee.

10 I say will unto God my Rock, why dost thou me forget:

why goe I sad, while th' enimie me pressing doth beset?

11 with murdring weapon in my bones, me my distressers check,

when all the day, where is thy God?
they unto me do speak.

12 My soule, ô wherefore dost thou bow
thy self down heavilie;

and wherefore in me makest thou
a stirr tumultuously?

wait-hopefully for God, because
yet I shall him confesse:

of my face the salvations,
my God he also is.

PSALME 43.

Sing this as the 42 Psalme.

Iudge me ô God, and plead my plea;
from nation mercilefs;

deliver me from man of guile,
and of injuriousnes.

2 For thou the God art of my strength, why thrustest me thre fro:

why goe I still sad mornfull, for th'oppression of the foe?

3 Send thy light and thy truth, let them me lead; let them me bring to mountaine of thy holines, and unto thy dwellings.

4 And I wil to Gods altar come;
to God, the joy fulnes

of my gladnes; and thee with harp, ô God my God, confesse.

5 My soule, ô wherefore dost thou bow
thy self down heavilie;

wait hopefullie for God, because
yet I shall him confesse:
of my face the salvations,
My God he also is.

PSALME 44.

1 To the maister of the musick, to the sonnes of Korach, an instructing psalm.

G O D we with our eares haue heard, our fathers haue us told: the work thou wroughtest in their daies, in daies before-of-old. 3 Thou with thy hand didst dispossesse heathens, and plantest them: unto the peoples diddest ev'l, and propagated them.

4 For they haue not by their owne sword, inherited the land;

PSALM. XLV.

and their arm, hath not saved them;
but it ~~was~~ thy right hand and thine arm, and thy faces light;
because thou wouldst their wealth.

5 Thou art my king o God: command
Jacobs-full saving-health.

6 In thee, we our distressing-foes as with the horn-shall-push:
in thy name we shall tread down those that rise up against us.

7 For in my bow I will not trust:
and my sword saves me not.

8 For thou from our distressers hast for us salvation got:

Our haters thou-didst-make ashamed

9 In God, we praise all day:
and thy name to eternitie,
we will confesse Solah.

10 But now thou dost away-repell, and us ashamed-make:
and with our ordred-armies, thou dost not thy journey-take.

11 From the distresser, thou dost cause us backward to recoyl;
and they that hate us for themselves doe make of us a spoile.

12 Thou hast us giv'n as sheepe for meat:
and us in nations fann'd.

13 Hast sold thy people for no wealth:
nor by their prices gaynd.

* 2 *

14 Thou to our neighbours dost expose us for an opprobrie:

a scoffing and a scorn. to those that round about us be.

15 Thou dost us for a parable, among the heathens put:
a nodding also of the head,
the nations through-our.

PSALM. XLIV.

- 16 My shamefull ignominie before me all the day:
and the abasing of my face,
me cov'ring doth aray.
- 17 For voide, of him that doth reproach and tauntingly-despight:
and for the face of th'emie,
and selfe avenging-wight.
- 18 All this is come on us, and we
haue not forgotten thee:
neither against thy covenant committed falsitee:
- 19 our heart hath not turn'd back: nor from thy path, our feete stray'd.
- 20 Though thou us-crush'd, in dragons place:
us cov'ring with deaths shade.
- 21 If we forget, our Gods name: or to strange God spread our hands.
- 22 Shall not God search this? for, hid things of th'heart, he understands.
- 23 But for thee, we as slaughter sheep esteem'd are, kill'd all day.
- 24 Stir-up, why sleepest, Lord? awake thrust not away for aye.
- 25 O wherfore hidest thou thy face:
forgetst our case distrest
- 26 and our oppression. For our soule is to the dust down-prest:
Our belly also on the earth fast-cleaving-hold doth take.
- 27 Rise for our full help: and redeem us, for thy mercie sake.

PSALME 45.

1 To the maister of the musick; upon Shoshannim to the sonnes of Korach: an instructing-psalm; a sonne of the welbelov'd virgins.

PSALM XLV.

This may be sung also as the 18 Psalme.

The heart, a good word boyleth fervently :

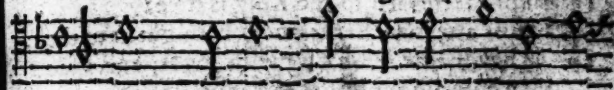

I to the King, doe say mine actions: my tongue, the pen of writer speedily. 3 Much fayrer art thou than be Adams sonnes ; grace prowred out :

in thy lips : therefore God hee hath blessed thee for evermore.

- 4 Gird thou, thy sword on thigh o mightie one:
thy glorie, and thine honourableness.
- 5 And in thy comly honour, ride thou on with prosperous speed, on word of faithfulness, and of meeknes and of just-equitee.
and fearfull things, thy right hand teach shal thee.
- 6 Thine arrowes, sharp; folke, under thee shall fall.
even in the heart, of the Kings enemies.

PSALM. vlv. xlv. i.

- 7 Thy throne, is ever and perpetuall, o God: the scepter of thy kingdom, is a scepter of most-equal-righteousnes.
- 8 Iustice thou lov'st; and hatest wickednes:
 Therefore, God thy God hath anointed thee;
 about thy peeres, with oile of joyfulness.
- 9 Myrrh, Alo's, Cassi', all thy garments bee:
 out of the yverie faire-pallaces,
 more-than they that doe make thee to rejoyce.
- 10 Kings daughters, are among thy precious-choices;
 At thy right hand, the married Queen was set, in Ophir gold. O daughter, heare and see,
 and bend thine eare: and thine-own folk forget, and-eke thy fathers house. So thy bewtee the King will cover: for thy Lord he is,
 and unto him bow-down-thy-self submitt.
- 11 And Tyrus daughter, peoples wealthy men;
 with gift, thy face shall earnestly-desire.
- 12 The Kings daughter all glorious is within:
 of purled works of gold is her attire.
- 13 In broderies led to the King is shee:
 maids after her; her friends; brought in to thee.
- 14 They shalbe led along with joyes, and glee:
 they enter shall, into the Kings Pallace.
- 15 In sted of thy fathers, thy sonnes shalbee:
 in all the earth, them Princes shalt thou place.
- 16 Thy name, through ages all, I will relate:
 therefore for aye, folks shall thee celebrate.

although the earth change place:
and though the mountains moved be,
into heart of the seas.

4 Though waters thereof make a noise, though muddie be shall they:
though for the haughtines therof
the mountaines quake Selah.

4 There is a floud, the streames therof, shall glad the citie of God:
the holy place, the places of the Highest-ones abode.

6 God is in midst of the same,
it shall not moved be:
at looking forth of th'early morn,
God help the same will he.

7 The nations did make a noise.
the kingdomes moved were:
giue-forth did he his thundring voice,
the earth did melt-with-fear.

8 The God of armies is with us,
the everbeing IAH:
the God of Iacob is for us a refuge-hye, Selah.

9 Iehovahs operations
o come-on ye and see:
that wondrous desolations put in the earth doth hee.

10 Vnto the utmost end of th'earth, he maketh cease the warres:
he breaks the bow, and cuts the spear,
in fire he burnes the carres.

11 Surcease and know, that I am God; exalted be will I
among the heathens, through the earth Ile be exalted high.

12 The God of armies is with us
the ever being IAH:
the God of Iacob is for us a refuge-high, Selah.

PSALM XLVII.

PSALME. 47.

I To the maister of the musick, to the sons of Korach a Psalm.

Sing this as the 33 Psalme.

- CLap hands, all peoples; shewt-joyfull to God, with voice of shrilling merrth 3 For high Iehovah is, fearefull;
a great King, over all the earth.
4 He doth subdue folks under us:
and heathens under our feet lay.
5 Doth choose our heritage for us:
Iakobs glorie, he loues Selah.
6 God is up-gone, with triumphing:
the LORD, with voice of trumping-shaulm.
7 Psalm-sing ye unto God psalm-sing:
sing psalm unto our King sing-psalm.
8 For God is King, of all the earth:
Psalm sing ye of instruction.
9 Over the heathens God reigneth:
his holy throne God sits upon.
10 Princes of peoples gath'ed are,
people of Abrahams God-mightie:
for unto God the earths shields are;
he is exalted vch'mently.

PSALME 48.

I A song a Psalm, to the sonnes of Korach,

Sing this as the 44 Psalme.

- GREAT is Iehovah and with praiseextolled vch'mentlie:
within the citie of our God,
his mount of sanctitie.
3 Fayre in her situation,
the whole earths joyfulness:
mount Sion, in sides of the north:
the great Kings citie is.

4 God

PSALM XLVIII.

- 4 God in her lofty-pallaces, for refuge known is he.
- 5 For loe the Kings assembled were:
together gone they be.
- 6 Themselues did see, so wondrous they:
they troubled frightened were.
- 7 Trembling did take them there: and pain,
as hers that child doth beare.
- 8 With eastern wind, the Tarshish ships thou breakest-all abroad.
- 9 As we haue heard, so haue we seen;
in citie of our God,
in citie of the God of hosts
the euer being-Iah.
God firmly will establish it, eternally, Selah.
- 10 Within thy pallace, we O God, haue minded thy mercee.
- 11 As thy name, so thy praise, O God to ends of th'earth shall be:
of justice, thy right hand is full.
- 12 Let Sion mount reioice, for thy judgements, let daughters of Iudah make-gladsome-noise.
- 13 Compasse Sion, about it goe:
the turrets thereof, tell
- 14 Set ye your heart, on fort thereof:
her pallaces view-well:
that ye may tell, to th'after age.
- 15 That this-same God, will bee:
our God, for ever and for aye:
guide us till death will bee.

PSALME 49.

1 To the mayster of the musick; to the sonnes of Korach a psalm.

Sing this as the 119 or as the 78 Psalme.

O Heare ye this, all peoples: hearken yee, all in the world inhabitants that bee.

PSALM XLIX.

- 3 Both baser-mans and noble-mans children:
together wealthie and poore-needle-men.
- 4 My mouth, shall speake things manifoldlie-wise:
and my hearts musing, is of prudencies.
- 5 I will mine eare to parable incline:
I open will with harp, mine hid-doctrine.
- 6 Why should I feare in th'evill daies: when at my steps iniquitie shall me compasse?
- 7 They that trust in their wealthie-fortitude:
and glorie, in their riches multitude.
- 8 Man can his brother in no wise redeem:
he can no ransome giue to God for him.
- 9 So costlie shall their soules redemption bee;
that it shall cease unto eternitee.
- 10 That he may liue yet to eternitee:
and may not the pit-of corruption see.
- 11 For he doth see, the wise-men die-awaie;
the foole and brutish jointlie do decaie;
and unto others leaue their wealthie-store.
- 12 They thinke their houses, be for evermore;
their dwellings to each generation:
their names they doe proclame the lands upon,
- 13 But man in honour, doth not lodge a-night:
he like is to the beasts, that perish-quite.
- 14 This their waie, follie is to them; yet they that them succeed, like-well their words, Selah.
- 15 As sheep they laid are in the lowest-graue,
death feeds them, and upright-men rule shall haue of them at morning: and their form in hell shall weare awaie, from place where each doth dwel
- 16 But God, from hells hand, will redeem awaie my soule: for he will me receiue, Selah.
- 17 Be not afraid, when as a man growes rich;
When glorie of his house, is wexen much.
- 18 For nothing shall he take, when he doth die;
nor descend after him shall his glorie.
- 19 Though in his life, he blest his soule; and thee they lawd, when to thy selfe thou good shalt bee.
- 20 To race of his forefathers, come it shall:

PSALM xlix. L.
the light they shall for aye not see-at all.
21 A man in honour, wanting prudence: is like the beasts, that perish utterly.

PSALME 50.

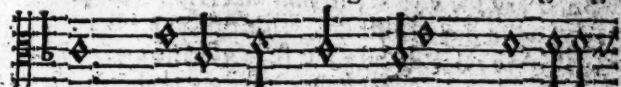

A Psalm of Asaph.

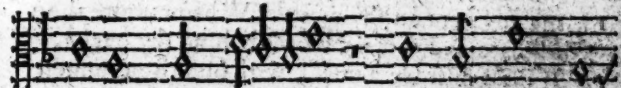

He God of Gods , Iehovah ; speak doth he, and calls the earth ; from rising of the Sun , to going-down therof. God shines-clearlie , from Sion, beauties whole perfection. 3 Our God come and not cease : fire 'fore him eateth ; and storm about him vehemently beateth.

4 Vnto the heavens call from above will hee:
unto the earth, his folk to iudge likewise.

5 My gracious saints unto me gather yee :
that strike my covenant with sacrifice.

6 And heayns his justice openly shall display:

because

PSALM L.

- because that God himselfe the judge is Selah.
- 7 Heare o my people, and I will proclaime, Ifrel, and I will testifie to thee:
- 8 I God thy God am. I will not thee blame.
'for me alway. I will out of thine houses no bullock take: nor goats, out of thy closes.
- 10 For each beast of the wood to me perteynes:
the beasts, that on a thousand mountaines be.
- 11 I know all flying foules of the mountaines:
and store of wild-beasts of the field, with me.
- 12 If I were hungrie, thee I would not tell it;
for mine the world, and plentie that doth fill it.
- 13 Will I the flesh eat, of the bullocks-strong:
and of the goat-bucks drink the bloud will I?
- 14 Sacrifice thou to God confession:
and pay thy vowes, to him that is most high.
- 15 And in day of distresse, with-call-apply me:
He thee release, and thou shalt glorifie me.
- 16 But to the wicked, what hast thou to doe, saith God, to tell my statutes: and to take
- 17 my cov'nant on thy mouth? When nurture thou dost hate: and cast my words behind thy backe.
- 18 If thou dost see a thief, with him thou runnest and thy part, is with whormongers dishonest.
- 19 Thy mouth in evill out-thou-tenest-break:
also thy tongue, doth frawd together frame.
- 20 Thou sittest, against thy brother thou dost speak:
against thy mothers son, giv'st evil-fame.
- 21 These things thou didst, and I did silent keep mee:
thou didst suppose, that I was surely like thee:
I will thee blame, and set even to thy view.
- 22 Yee that forget God, this now well advize:
lest I doe teare, and none be to reskew.
- 23 He honours me, that thankes doth sacrifice:
and he that doth his waie in orderfashion;
I will cause him for to see Gods salvation.

PSALM L I.

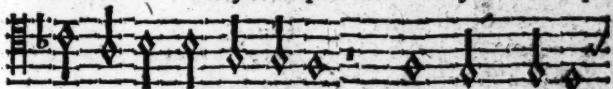

1 To the mayster of the musick : a Psalm of David. 2 When Nathan the Prophet came unto him: after he had entred, unto Bathshebangh.

G O D be gracious to me, according unto thy kindnesse : as thy compassions many bee , wipe thou awaie my trespasses. 4 Much wash me from my perversnesse : and from my sinne me purifie.

5 My trespasses , for know doe I : and my sinne

'fore me alwais is.

6 Against thee against thee alone,
I hnn d-haue; and in eyes of thee;
that which is evill I haue done:
that when thou speakst thou just mayst be,
when as thou judgest pure mayst be.

PSALM LI.

- 7 Doe in perversesse I have been brought forth with sorrow : and in sin, my mother hath conceived me.
- 8 Behold, the truth deelyte dost thou in th' inward-parts : in secrecie hast wisdom also made me know.
- 9 Thou wilt from sin me purifie with eizop, and be cleane shall I :
thou wilt me wash, and I than snow
- 10 shall whiter be. Make me wilt thou to hear gladnes and joyfull- glee.
- 11 The bones thou didst alunder-bray,
They shalbe glad som chearfully.
- 12 from my sinnes, hide thy face away :
wipe-out all mine iniquitie.
- 13 Cleane heart, o God, create to me :
And a firm sp'rit, in me new-make.
- 14 Cast me not from thy face : nor take from me, thy spirit of sanctitee.
- 15 Ioy of thy saving health, again to me restore : and stedfastly with a free spirit me sustaine.
- 16 Teach trespassers thy waies will :
and sinners, shall convert to thee
- 17 Deliver me from blouds, o God, God of my healthfull-safe-abode :
my tongue shall shewt, thine equitie.
- 18 Lord, thou my lips shalt open-free :
and my mouth shall shew forth thy praise
- 19 For sacrifice doth not please thee, elle I would giue : burnt sacrifice, thou tak'it not in contented-wile.
- 20 Gods sacrifices, are a sp'rite :
broken : a heart broke and contrite :
- 21 God, thou wilt not it despise.
- 22 In thy good-will doe thou bestow on Sion, goodnesse-bounteously :
walls of Ierusalem, build thou.
- 23 Then thou accept shalt-pleasingly and bullocks thine Altar upon then shall they offer up on-hye.

of David. 2 When Doeg the Adomite came, and shewed to Saul, and said to him : David came, unto the house of Achimelech.

Sing this as the 18. or as the 37 Psalme.

- O Mightie man, why boastest thou in ill?
Gods mercie all the day endureth still.
3 Think doth thy tongue woeful mischievousnes;
as rasor sharp, doing deceitfulness 5 Loue dost thou evill more than good : to say falshood, rather then justice true Selah.
6 All words of swallowing perniciousnes loue them dost thou, tongue of deceitfulness.
7 God also will, to perpetuice destroy thee, pull thee hence, and pluck up thee out of the tent: and root thee quite-away, out of the land of living-men, Selah.
8 And then the just shall it behold, and they shall feare: shall also laugh at him (And say,) 9 Behold the man, that made not God his might,
but trusted in his riches ample-plight:
he strong was in his evill-mischievous.
10 But I, am as green oliue in Gods house:
I confidently trust in Gods mercie, for ever and for aye continuallie.
I will unto thee thankfully confesse for evermore because thou hast done this :
and will thy name with patient hope-implore for it is good, thy gracious Saints before.

This may be sung also as the 3 Psalme.

God my prayer hear : and hide not thee , from my request-for grace. 3 Attend to me , and answer me : I utter-mournfull-voice in my musing, and make a troubled-noise. 4 Because of voice of th'adverse-enemie , because of vexing of the ungodly : for they bring on me painfulness unright, and doe in anger hatefully-me spight.

terrors of death eke fall'n upon me bee.

 - 8 Loe, wandring flight I would make farr-away;
lodge would I in the wildernes, Selah.

for I from him away could hidden be.

and meditate: and he did heare my voice.

even he that sits from ancient-aye Selah:
because that unto them no changes bee:
and God they have not feared-reverentlie.

his covenant he breaking hath prophan'd.

PSALM 56.

1 To the maister of the musick; concerning the dumb done in farr-places, Michtam of David: when the Philistims took him in Gath.

Sing this as the 53 Psalme.

O Mighty-God unto me gracious be,
for miserable-man would me devour:
all day, he warring sore-oppresseth me.

3 All day, mine enviers, would me devour:
for many, warr against me o most hye.

4 What day I fear: trust unto thee will I.

5 In God, I praise his word: in God I trust,
I will not feare, what flesh can doe to me.

6 All day, my words they greevously doe-wrest:
against me, all their thoughts for evill bee.

7 They draw together, closely-wait they lay;
my foot-steps heedfully-observe doe thay:
For, they my soule expect-with-earnestnesse.

8 Shall they escape- safe for iniquitie?

O God, in wrath, the peoples down depreffe.

9 My wandring, thou hast in account-readie:
thou in thy bottell put my weeping-teares:
yea are they not within thy registers?

10 Then, shall my foes turn back in day I call:
this doe I know, that God wil be me by.

11 In God, the word I will with praise-extoll in IAH, the word with praise-extoll will I.

12 In God I boldly trust, I will not bee afraid: what earthly man can doe to mee.

13 O God thy vowes, are on me: I will pay, my soule from death, delivered-away;

PSALM LVII.

hast not thou eke my feet from sliding-fast?

PSALME 57.

the caue.

Sing this as the 60 Psalme.

O God be gracious unto me,
to me be gracious; for in thee,
my soule for shelter-safe-hopeth:
and in shade of thy wings I will hope for my shelter-safe; untill each-woefull ev'l away passeth.
3 I call will unto God most-hye:
unto the God, that perfectly.
doth for me bring things to-a-staie.
4 From heav'ns he sends, and saveth me; put him unto reproach doth he
that would me swallow-up, Selah:
God he doth send forth, his mercie and his assured-veritie.
5 My soule, the Lions is among;
I lie among the inflamers,
the sonnes of men, whose teeth, are speares and arrowes: and sharp sword their tongue.
6 God over heav'ns be lifted hye:
over the whole earth, thy glorie.
7 Net for my steps prepare did they;
he bow'd my soule: they digg'd a pit before me; and in middes of it, themselues are fallen-down, Selah.
8 Mine heart o God, prepar'd firmly Mine heart prepar'd is stedfastly:
I sing will, and with Psalm-will-praise.
9 Raite-up thy-self o my glorie, raise up thee, harp and psalterie:
at dawning-day I will up-raise

PSALM. LVII. LVIII.

- 10 In peoples, Lord, I will thee laud:
in nations, thee with-psalm-applaud.
11 That great to heav'ns is thy mercie;
and to the skyes thy veritee, 12 God over heav'ns up-listed bee;
over the whole earth thy glorie.

PSALME 58.

1 To the mayster of the musick. Corrupt not; Mich-
tam of David.

Sing this as the 45 Psalme.

- IN deed, Assemblie, doe ye speak justice:
judge yee ô Adams sonnes, righteousness?
3 Yea ye in heart, work evill-injuries:
yee in the land, weigh your hands violentnesse.
4 The wicked from the womb estranged be:
erre from the belly, speaking fallitee.
5 Poyson they haue like serpents poyson warm:
as of the deaf asp, that doth stop his eare.
6 Which will not hear, the voice of the that charm of the most-wise inchanting forcerer.
7 Their teeth, ô God, in their mouth break-away:
the Lions tusshes, burst thou out, ô IAH.
8 As waters that goe-hence, reful'd be they:
bend he his shafts, as cut off let them been.
9 As snail that meltereth, let him goe away:
as womans fore-birth, Sun that haue not seen.
10 Ere they perceiue your thorns thorns of the Brier:
ev'n quick, he will whyrle each away in ire.
11 The just shall joy, when vengeance he doth see:
shall wash his feet, in bloud of the godlesse.
12 And men shall say, fruit for the just surelie:
surelie a God, judging in earth there is.

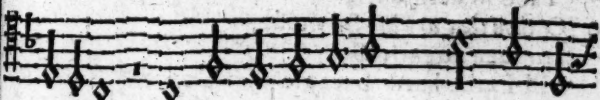

PSALME 59.

1 To the mayster of the musick; Corrupt not, Michtam of David: when Saul sent, and they kept the house for to kill him.

PSALM. LIX.

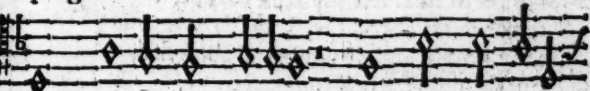

Y God deliver me from them that are mine enemies: set thou me up on hye, from them that up-against me rise. 3 Deliver me from them that work painful-transgression: and from the men of blouds, vouchsafe-to-me-salvation.

4 For loe they lay-wait for my soule, the strong together draw against me: not for my trespassse, nor for my sin o IAH.

5 Without iniquitie in me,
they run and readie make:
rise up to meet me, and behold.

6 And thou iehovah, wake, wake God of hosts, God of Iſr'el, to visite heathens all:

be gracious to none (Selah)
that work sinne disloyal.

7 They turn at even, make-noise like dogs:
and citie round g lay.

Loe, with their mouth they utter-much:

PSALM. LIX.

- Swords, in their lips haue they:
 For who (say they) is he that heares?
 9 But thou Eternal-one, wilt laugh at them: wilt heathens all haue in derision,
 10 O thou that art his fortitude, to thee attentively -
 will I take-heed: because-that God, is my munition hye.
 11 God of my bountifull-mercie
 he first-prevent will me:
 on mine envious-enemies,
 God he will let me see.
 12 Slay them not, lest my folk forget;
 make them abroad to stray in thy pow'r, and down bring thou the,
 our shield, ô Lord-my stay.
 13 Sin of their mouth, word of their lips:
 when in their hautines
 they taken are: and let them tell.
 of cursing and falsenes.
 14 Consume in wrath, consume and let them be no more: that they may know, that God in Iacob rules;
 to th'ends of th earth, Selah.
 15 They turn at even, make noise like dogs
 and citie round-belay.
 16 They, wander shall to eat: and howl
 if filled be not they.
 17 But I will sing thy strength, and showt
 at morning thy kindnes:
 for thou my fence and refuge art
 in day of my distresse.
 18 O thou that art my fortitude,
 to thee sing-psalm will I:
 For God mine hye-munition is,
 the God of my mercie.

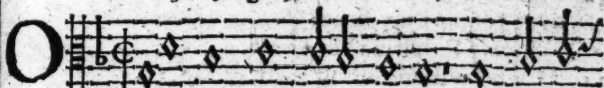

PSALM. LX.

PSALME 60.

1 To the maister of the musick upon Shushan-eduth: Michram of David; for to teach. 2 When he fought with Aram of Mesopotamia, and with Aram of Zobah: and Ioab turned, and smote AEdom in the valie of salt twelue thousand.

PSALME 60.

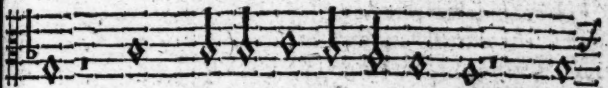

This may be sung also as the 84 Psalme.

GOD, thou didst away us cast thou didst us break: thou angry wast; again-return thou unto us. 4 Thou cauled hast the land to quake, thou didst it rive: again whole-make, her breaches, for it moved is.

5 Vnto thy people thou didst show hard-things: to drink given us hast thou the wine of stonishing-dismay.

6 Giv'n hast thou, to them that thee fear,
a banner, hye-displayd to bear:
because of certain truth, Selah.

PSALM. LX. LXI.

- 7 That thy beloved-ones may haue deliverance: o doe thou saue, with thy right hand, and me answer.
- 8 God speak did by his sanctitie,
I will be glad: divide shall I Shechem, and Succoth dale measure:
- 9 Mine Gilead, and Manasseh mine;
and strength of mine head, Ephajim:
Iudah shall my lawgiver be.
- 10 Moab, my wash pot: I shall throw over Idumea my shoe:
showt Palestina, over me.
- 11 O who will me along-forth guide, unto the citie fortifide:
who will me lead AEdom unto?
- 12 is it not thou God, that hadst thrust us from thee; and within our hosts that wouldest not, o God, forth goe
- 13 O giue thou us help from distresse; becaule decietfull-falshood is,
the earthly mans salvation,
- 14 Through God doe valiantnes shal we;
and them that our distressers be,
he with-contempt-will-tread-upon.

PSALME 61.

To the maister of the musick upon Neginath,
psalm of David.

Sing this as the 37 Psalme.

- Hear thou o God, my crie; my pray'r attend.
To thee I call, from the lands utmost end, when my heart overwhelm'd is-heavily:
lead thou me to the rock more high then I.
- 4 For thou hast been to me an hopefull-place:
a tow'r of strength, from th'adversaries face.
- 5 I sojourn will within thy tent for aye:
will hope, in lecret of thy wings, Selah.
- 6 For thou o God, hast to my vowes giv'n eare:
giv'n heritage, to them that thy name feare.

PSALM. LXI. LXII.

- 7 Daies to the kings, daies added be by thee:
his yeeres, as unto age and age shal bee.
8 Fore God he sit shall to eternall aye:
mercie and truth prepare, which keep him may.
9 So will I to thy name perpetuallie sing-psalme: that I may pay my vowes, daily.

PSALME 62.

1 To the maister of the musick over Ieduthun, a psalm of David.

Sing this as the 25 or as the 55 Psalme.

- YEt-sure to God, my soule keeps silentnesse:
because from him, my safe salvation is,
3 Surely my Rock, and my salvation he:
Mine high-defense, much mov'd I shall not be.
4 How long indeavour a-mischevous deed will ye against a man? ye shall killed be, all of you: shal be as bowed wall:
and as a fense, that shooved-is to fall.
5 Yet-surely they haue consultation to thrust him, from his exalation; they doe delight in falshood: blesse doe they with mouth; but with their in-part curse, Selah, 6 Yet unto God, my soule keep-silentnes:
because from him, mine expectation is.
7 Surely my rock, and my salvation he:
mine high defense, I shall not moved be.
My saving health, my glorie, is in God:
in God, my Rock of strength, my safe abode.
9 Yee people, trust in him all times; out-lay fore him your heart: God, is our hope, Selah, 10 Surely the base-mens sonnes are vanitie;
the sonnes of noble-men are but a lye:
in ballances together them to lay, lighter than vanitie it selfe, are they.
11 Trust not ye in oppressing-injurie, also become not vain in robberie:
if powerfull-wealth doe plentifully-grow, doe not the heart upon the same bestow.

PSALM LXIII.

12 Once speak did God, twice heard I this againe;
that pow'r fulnes doth unto God pertaine.

13 And unto thee Lord, merciful-kindnes:
for thou, wilt pay each man, as his work is.

PSALME 63.

1 A Psalm of David : when he was, in the wilderness of Iudah.

Sing this as the 18 Psalme.

GOD, thou my God ; I earely thee inquire :
my soule, for thee doth thirstily-desire:
my flesh for thee doth long-with-ardentnes:
in land of drought, and wearie waterless.

3 As I did view thee in the sanctuarie :
so for to see thy power, and thy glorie.

4 Because thy mercie better then life is :
my lips shall celebrate thee with prayes .

5 So thorow-out my life blesse thee will I :
I in thy name, will lift my hands on high.

6 My soule with fat and fatnes fill'd shall bee :
my mouth eke, shall with shouting lips praise thee.

7 When on my beds I thee in mind relate :
doe in the watches on thee meditate.

8 That unto me a full help been hast thou :
and I haue showed in thy wings shadow.

9 My soule affixed-cleaverth after thee:
thy right hand stedily-upholderth me.

10 But they, that seek my soule for wastfull-woe :
unto the lower-parts of th earth shall goe.

11 He shall be slain with sword : the foxes pray

12 shall they be. But the King, in God shall joy:
glorie shall ev'rie one that swears him by:
but stopt shall be, their mouth that speak a lye.

PSALME 64.

1 To the mayster of the musick ; a psalm of David.

Sing this as the 53 Psalme.

GOD heare my voice when I doe pray to thee:
preferue my life, from dread of themie.

3 From secret of ill doers, hide thou me:

from

PSALM LXII. LXIII.

from rage, of them that work iniquitie.

4 which haue their tongue sharp-whetted as a sword haue bent their arrow, even a bitter word.

5 To shoot in secret places at th' upright :
shoot him and fear not, will they suddenlie.

6 An ill word they to them confirm-with-might;
tell, to hide snares : they say, who shall them see?

7 They doe search out evils injurious ;
they doe accomplish a search curious :

Even the deep heart, and part of man within.

8 But God, he hath an arrow suddenly against them shot: their stroken wounds haue been 9 And when they caused haue them severally by their own tongue upon themselves to fall:

they that them see, to flight, shall get them all.

10 And all men, shall in fear stand reverently :
and shall declare Gods operation;
and shall his deed consider-prudently.

11 The just rejoyce shall in th' Eternal one ;
also in him for safetie hope he shall:
and glorie shall, the upright hearted all.

PSALME 65.

1 To the maister of the musick, a Psalm, a song of David.

Sing this as the 60 Psalm.

O God, praise silent-waits for thee, in Sion : and the vow shall bee 3 paid unto thee, Thou pray'r hearest all flesh therefore, shall come to thee.
perverse things, haue preval'd d'gainst me:
our trespasses, thou them cov'rest.

5 O blessed he whom thou dost make-choice of and neer unto thee take,
in thy courts to haue dwelling place :
with good things that in thine house be full satisfied be shall we,
with holy-things of thy pallace.

6 In justice thou wilt us answer, things

PSALM LXV. LXVI.

things fearfull, o God our Saver :
the hope of ends of th'earth throughout and of those farr-off by the sea.

7 Mounts by his night stablish doth he :
and is with strength , girded about.

8 Which doth the loud-noise of the seas
the lowd-noise of their waues, appease:
and peoplestroubulous murmuring.

9 And they that dwell in parts far-out fear, for thy signes: thou makest showt, th'outgoings of morn and evening.

10 The land thou careful-vistest, and plentifully it moistenett, thou dost enrich it verie much ;
With Gods stream, where full waters are:
their corn thou readie dost prepare,
when thou hast it prepared such.

11 The ridges of it thou watrest, the sorrowes of it thou settest :
with showers thou dost it soften-still;
and thou the bud therof dost blesse.

12 Crownest the yeare of thy goodnesse:
and thy pathes fatnesse doe destill.

13 On pastures of the wildernes, they doe destill: and with gladnes, the hills they girded are about.

14 The pastures are with sheep clothed;
and vallies are with corn cov red:
they sing, they also joyfull-showt.

PSALME 66.

1 To the mayster of the Musick ; a song a psalm,
This may be sung also as the 100 Psalme.

All the earth , shewt ye to God. 2 His name, glorie with-psalm sing ye : put glorie, to his praise.

PSALM LXVI.

And say to God, how fearfull thy workes be!

Through greatnesse of thy strength, thy foes yeeld feynedlie to thee shall they.

- 4 All th'earth, bow-down and sing, to thee psalme sing they, to thy name, Selah.
- 5 Come see, Gods works: he in his act to Adams sonns, is reverent.
- 6 He turned sea, into drie-land on foot they through the river went :
Even-there did we rejoyce in him.
- 7 He ruleth with his pow'r, *for*aye :
his eyes, in nations spie: rebells, let not exalt themselves, Selah,
- 8 Yee peoples, blesse our God: and make the voice of his praise to be heard.
- 9 That puts our soule, in life : and hath not giv'n, our foot-for to be stir'd.
- 10 For thou o God, hast proved us;
tride us, as silver tried is.
- 11 Thou hast us brought into the net :
hast put upon our loynes, straitnes.
- 12 Thou causedst men for to ride, on our head: we through fire did passe through waters eke : and thou hast brought us out, to an abundant-place.
- 13 With burnt offrings I to thine house will come : will pay, my vowes to thee.
- 14 Which my lips uttered : and my mouth spake, when distresse was upon mee.
- 15 Burnt offrings of fat-marrowed rammes:
I unto thee wil offering pay, with incense : I will ready make the bullocks, with goat bucks, Selah.
- 16 Come hearken ye and I will tell,
o ye the fearers of God all:
what he hath done unto my soule.

17 To

PSALM. LXVI. LXVII.

- 17 To him, I with my mouth did call.
And with my tongue, he was extoll'd.
18 If in my heart I gaue regard unto painfull iniquitie, the Lord he would not, then haue heard 19 But surely, God hath heard: unto voice of my pray'r attend did hee.
20 God blessed be: which turn'd not back, my pray'r and his mercie, from mee,

PSALME 67.

1 To the maister of the musick on Neginoth, a psalm 2 long.

Sing this as the 60 or as the 84 Psalme.

- GOd, unto us be gracious and he us blesse: his face with us, he clearly-make to shine, Selah.
3 That they thy waie the earth upon;
and thy healthfull salvation,
among the heathens all, know may.
4 Peoples, ô God, confesse thee shall:
confesse thee shall, the peoples all.
5 The nations, joy and shewt shall they for thou wilt judge most-righteously the peoples; and wilt guide-safely, the nations, in earth, Selah.
6 Peoples, ô God, confesse thee shall:
confesse thee shal, the peoples all.
7 The earth, it her increase doth bear:
God even our God, blesse us will he.
God he will blesse us bounteouslie:
and all the earths ends, shall him fear.

PSALME 68.

1 To the mayster of the musick, a psalm, a song of David.

Sing this as the 1 Psalme.

- LEt God arise, his enemies asunder scattred bee:
and they that haters of him are,

away

PSALM LXVII

away from his face flee.

- 3 As smoke is driv'n drive them awaie:
as is the wax melted,
at face of fire : from face of God,
so perish the wicked.
- 4 And let the just-men joyful be,
shew they forth gladfomnes, before the face of God; and let them joy with chearfulnes.
- 5 Sing ye to God, unto his name sing Psalm : prepare the way, for him that in the desert-parts doth ride, in his name IAH:
And gladnes shew before his face.
- 6 Father of fatherlesse, and widowes judge: even God, within his holy mansion is.
- 7 God seats the detolate, in house ; brings forth those that are bound in chaines: but the rebellious, dwell in a barren ground.
- 8 O God, before thy peoples face, when forth thou madest way:
when in the desert wildernes, thou marchedst-on, Selah.
- 9 The earth did quake, heav'ns also did at face of God, distill :
Sinai it self, at face of God,
the God of Israell.
- 10 A raine of liberalities, ô God thou didst out shed :
thine heritage, thou didst confirm:
when it was wearied.
- 11 Thy companie doe dwell in it :
thou ready dost prepare in thy goodnes, ô God, for them that poor-afflicted are.
- 12 The Lord himself wil give the speech:
of those that doe relate.

PSALM LXVIII.

the joyfull-tydings publicly, unto the army great

13 The kings of armies, they shall flee even far away shall they:
and she that in the house remains,
shall distribute the pray.

14 Though ye between the por-rewes lye:
like doves wings shall ye be,
with silver deck'd, her fethers eke with gold of yelow-green.

15 When the Almighty spreadeth-outwith dissipation,
the kings in it; then snowy white shall it be in Salmon.

16 A mountain of God mighty is
the mountain of Bashan:
a mountain of hills many, is
the mountain of Bashan.

17 Why leap yee, o yee hillie mounts?
this mountain, for his feat
God doth desire: yea dwell for aye Iehovah will in it.

18 Gods charret, twice-ten-thousand-fold, thousands of Angels bee:
the Lord with them, as at Sinai within the sanctuarie.

19 Thou art ascended to on high, thou hast for captiue-led captivitie: and unto men hast gifts distributed:
hast also the rebellious led;
to dwell there, o IAH God.

20 Blest be the Lord, which day by day doth us (with blessings) lode:
even God, our saving-health, Selah.

21 A God that ful saveth, our God is: and to GOD the Lord, belong th'yflues of death.

22 But surely God, will wound the head of his enimious-foes:

the hayrie scalp, of him that in his guilty-sins, on goes.

23 The Lord hath said, I will again from Basan bring up thee:

I will thee bring again up from the deep gulfs of the sea.

24 That, thy foote may embrewed be,
in blood: out of thy foes;

tongue of thy dogs, in blood that out of ev'rie of them flowes.

25 Thy goings they have seen, ô God;
the going-progresse
of my God, and my king which in the sanctuarie is.

26 First-went the singers, after they
on instruments that playd:

among them were the damoissels, that on the tymbrels laid.

27 Within the congregations, God thankfully-bleste yee:

ev'n bleste the Lord, yee of the well of Israel that bee.

28 There litle Benjamin, their Chief;
with Iudahs assemblie,

their Princes: Zabuluns Princes; Princes of Naphtali.

29 Thy God hath giv'n commandment, for thy strength valourous:

firm strengthen thou ô God the thing that thou hast wrought for us

30 For thy house, in Ierusalem:

Kings shall bring gifts to thee.

31 Rebuke the rout of the spearmen, the crew of bulls-mightie;

with calues of folks, and him that doth with silver plates submit:

the peoples he hath scattered:

that doe in warres delight.

PSALM. LXVIII. LXIX.

- 32 Princely-ambassadors shall come from out of AEGYPT-land:
to God, shall AETHIOPIA
stretch hastily her hand.
- 33 Kingdomes of the earth, to God sing-psalm:
sing to the Lord, Selah.
- 34 To him that rideth in the heav'ns
the heav'ns of ancient aye:
Loe he his voice giues, voice of strength,
- 35 Giue unto God' valour:
on Isr'el is his majestic;
and in the skies his power.
- 36 God fearfull, from thy sanctuaries:
the God of Isr'el, he giues strength and forces to his folk;
God blessed ever be.

PSALME 69.

1 To the mayster of the musick upon Shoshannim
a psalm of David:

Sing this as the 18 Psalme.

- SAue me, o God: for waters entred are even to my soule. I sink in gulfie mud, where no staie is: I water deeps enter,
and overflow me doth the streaming-floud.
- 4 Am wearie with my crie: my throat is brent, mine eies faile: for my God waiting-attent.
- 5 Manie moe are, my haters canstleslie, than be haire of mine head: mightie are they
that would suppress me, are my foes falslie:
then I restor'd, what I took not awaie.
- 6 O God, thou know'st my follie: and from thee,
my guiltie-falts cannot concealed bee.
- 7 Let them for me not be abash'd, that thee Lord GOD, of hosts, doe hopefully-desire:
yea let them not ashamed be for mee, that thee, o God of Israel, require.
- 8 For, for thy sake, I beare reproachfull-blame:
cover my face doth, ignominious shame.

PSALM. LXIX.

- 9 I am become, unto my bretheren, an utter-stranger: and a forreinour eu'n unto mine-own mothers childeren.
- 10 For, of thine house the zeale did me devour:
and the reproehfull-taunts of them that thee reprochfully-doe-taunt, are fall'n on me.
- 11 And I did weep, my soule with fasting spent:
and it was turn'd, to my much-approbrie.
- 12 And I put sackcloth on for my rayment:
and, for a proverb unto them, was I.
- 13 They that sit in the gate, against me spake:
and strong-wine drinkers, melodies did make.
- 14 And as for me, my prayer is to thee, Iehovah, in a time of acceptation;
ô God in multitude of thy mercie;
answer thou me, in truth of thy salvation.
- 15 Deliver me out of the myrie-claie, and let me not as-drowned-sink awaie: Deliv'ed let me from my haters be,
and out of water deeps. Let waters flood not overflow me, nor gulf swallow me:
nor let the pit, her mouth upon me shut.
- 17 Answer me LORD, for good is thy kind-grace:
as thy great mercies, turn to me the face.

* 2 *

- 18 And hide thou not thy face, from thy servant:
for on me trouble is, soon answer mee.
- 19 Draw neere my soule, to it redemption grant:
because of my foes, ransom thou me free.
- 20 Thou, my reproch, shame, and dishonour'd plight know'st: my distreſſers all, are in thy sight.
- 21 Reproeh hath broke mine heart, and full I am of heavineſſe: and looked for some one to mone-with-pittie, but not any came:
and lookt for comforters, but I found none.
- 22 But for my meat they gaue me bitter-gall:
and vineger, to slake my thirst withall.
- 23 Let for a snare their table 'fore them bee:
and for full recompence, a trap-to-fall,

P A L M X L : X. L X X.

- 24 Their eies be darkned, that they may not see:
and make their loines to shake continuall.
- 25 Powr out upon them thy detesting-yre:
and take them, let thine angers burning-fire.
- 26 Their castle let be desolated-quite:
within their tents, let there not any dwell.
- 27 For him they persecute whom thou dost smite:
and of thy woundeds sorow they doe tell.
- 28 Giue viciousnes, unto their wicked-vice:
and let them not come into thy justice.
- 29 Wiped be they out of book of the living:
and with the just, let them not written be,
- 30 And I, that am afflicted-poor and greiving:
ô God, let thy salvation lift-up me.
- 31 Then will I praise the name of God with song:
and magnifie him with confession.
- 32 And it shall better to Iehovah bee:
than yong bul that hath horns & hoof doth part.
- 33 The meek men shall reioice, when they it see;
seekers of God, liue also shall your heart.
- 34 Because Iehovah he the needie heares;
and he despiseth not, his prisoners,
- 35 Praise him let heav'ns and earth; the seas, and 36 that creeps in them. For God will Sion saue, build Iudahs cities eke, and dwell they shall there, and it for inheritance shall haue.
- 37 His servants seed eke, shall possesse the same:
and dwel therein shall they that loue his name.

4 Let them turn back, ha ha that say;
their bashfull shame for to requite.

5 Ioy let them and rejoyce in thee,
all that thee seek: and let them say

PSALME 71

Sing this as the 55. or as the 25 Psalm.

IN thee doe I for-safetie-hope ô IAH:

ô let me not abashed be for aye.

2 Thou in thy justice, rid me and me free:
incline to me thine eare, and saue thou me.

3 Be thou, a Rock of habitation hye, for me, to enter in continuallie;
to saue me thou didst give commission:
for thou my Rock, and my munition.

4 My God, out of the wickedshand, me rid;
from hand, of th'evil and the levened.

5 For thou mine expectation: Lord GOD, thou art my confidence from my childhood.

6 I, from the womb haue been upheld, by thee:
thou from my mothers bowels, tookest me:

7 of thee my praise alwaie, As wonder, I to manie am: but thou, my hope mightie.

8 Let with thy praise, my mouth replenish bee:
ev'n all the daie, with glorifying thee.

9 At time of old age, cast me not awaie:
forsake me not, when my strength doth decale.

10 For of me speak mine enemies: and they consult in one, that wait for my soule lay.

11 Saying, God hath forsaken him: pursue and take him: for there is none to reskue.

12 O God, Be thou not farre-awaie from mee:
my God, unto my succour hasten thee.

and make-addition, to all thy praise.
- 15 My mouth shall tel thy justice, even daily thy justice onely thine, will I record.

- 17 God, from my childhood learned me hast thou:
and I haue shew'd thy marvels, untill now.

God let me not forsaken be of thee.
untill thine arme unto this age I shew;

from deeps of th'earth, didst turn & bring me thence
- 21 Thou much increasestd my magnificence.
And thou didst turn-about and comfort mee.

PSALM LXXIII.

A psalm, of A saph:

Sing this as the 50 Psalme.

- YEt surely good to Israel God is:
 even unto them that haue in heart purenes.
- 2 And I, my feet almost aside-swarved:
 my steps, had wel-nigh everie-one slipped,
- 3 For I, at fooles-vain-glorious, envied:
when I the peace of wicked-men espied.
- 4 For in their death no painful-bands there be;
 and lustie is their firm-validitie.
- 5 They are not in turmoyl of men-wretched:
 and are not with the earthly-men plagued.
- 6 Therefore, pride as a chain about them swayeth:
 them as a garment violence arayeth.
- 7 Each of their eies, with fumes out doth start:
 they passe, th'imaginations of the heart.
- 8 They doe corrupt, and speak maliciously oppression: they speak most-loftily.
- 9 Against the heav'ns their mouth they set-a-talking:
 also their tongue, throughout the earth is walking.
- 10 Therefore, his folk turns hither: and ful-cup of water, is wrung for them to drink up.
- 11 And they doe say; How knoweth God mightie:
 and is their knowledge in the God Most-hye?
- 12 Loe these the wicked are: and in tranquillitie for ever; they increase in rich-abilitie.
- 13 Surely in vain, cleansed mine heart haue I;
 and haue my hands washed in innocencie.
- 14 And all the day with plagues-afflicted am:
 in mornings eke, is my rebukfull-blame.
- 15 If I doe say, thus will I make-narration:
 loe, I wrong-falsly thy sonns generation.
- * 2 *
- 16 And I thought, this by knowledee to-comprise but it a painfull-thing was in mine eyes.
- 17 Till to Gods sanctuaries I entred:
 to their last end, did prudently giue-heed.

PSALM LXXIII. LXXIV.

- 18 Surely thou setteſt them in ſlipprie places:
doſt make them fall, to deſolated-caſes:
19 How are they brought to wondrous waſted plight as in a moment are they ended-quite,
are they conſum'd with frights that trouble make:
20 Even as a dream after that one doth wake:
O Lord my-ſtaies, when as thou up ariſeſt, their image thou contemptuouſly deſpiſeſt.
21 Surely mine heart was ſowrly leuened:
within my reines, I alſo was pricked.
22 And I was brutiſh and unſkilful quite:
I was with thee, even as a beaſtly-wight.
23 Yet I with thee continually remayned:
by my right hand, thou haſt me firm reſteyned.
24 Thou with thy counſell wilt me guide-ſoftlie:
and after wilt receiue me to glorie.
25 Whom haue I in the heavens? and with thee, none in the earth delightful-pleaſeth me.
26 My fleſh and mine heart faileth altogether:
mine hearts Rock and my portion, God for ever.
27 For loe they that are farre-off from thee gone, ſhall periſh: thou ſuppreſſeſt, everie one 28 that doth a whooring goe from thee. And I.
it's good for me, to God for to draw-nye:
I in the Lord GOD ſet my hopefull-ſtation;
of al thy workes, for to make declaration.

PSALME 74.

Sing this as the 7 Pſalme.

- O GOD, why haſt thou caſt us off
to perpetuities:
againſt the ſheep of thy paſture, ſmokes thy face wrathfully?
2 Remember thine aſſembly, which thou haſt of old purchaſt:
the rod of thine inheritance,
which thou redeemed haſt:
This Sion mount, wherein thou dwelt.
3 Lift thou thy feet on hye,

PSALM LXXIV

- unto the desolations
of perpetuities:
the enemy in th' Holy-place hath all things wasted-fore.
- 4 In midst of thy synagogues
doe thy distressers rore:
their signes haue they set up for signes.
- 5 Each known-was famously, as he against th' infolded wood did axes lift on hye.
- 6 And altogether at this time,
the carved works of it:
with beetles and with clubbie-mauls,
in peeces-down-they-bet.
- 7 Thy sanctuaries, they haue cast in fire: the dwelling-place of thy name, down unto the earth they did profanely-raise.
- 8 They in their heart did say; Let us
of them at-once make-spoyle:
they burnt haue, all the synagogues of God within the soyle.
- 9 Our signes, we doe not now behold:
there is not us among a Prophet more; nor any one that knowes the time how long.
- 10 How long O God, shall th' aduerser-foe upbraid reprochfully?
shall th' enemy blaspheme thy name,
to perpetuities?
- 11 O wherefore dost thou turn away thine hand, even thy right hand?
from mids of thy bosome draw make thou a complete-end.
- 12 For God, is from antiquitie my King: he perfecteth helpfull saluations, within the midst of the earth.

their hands eke none could find.
- 7 At thy rebuke, ô Iakobs God:
both carre and horse, slept hath.
- 8 Thou, fearfull art, and who can stand fore thee, when thou art wrath.
- 9 From heav'ns, thou mad'st judgement be heard:
th'earth feared, and still lay.

all meek of th'earth, Selah.
- 11 Surely the wrathfull-heat of man confesse shall unto thee:
the remnant of the wrathfull-heats by thee shall girded bee.

PSALM. LXXVII.

- 12 Vow yce and pay, to I A H our God
all that about him wonne :
a present let them bring to him that is the Fearefull one.

Psalm of Asaph.

Sing this as the 53 or as the 3 Psalme.

- MY voice to God was and I lowd-cryd :
my voice to God, and he gave eare to mee.
3 I sought the Lord, in day of my miserie;
my hand by night reacht out and not ceased :
my soule refused comforted to bee.
4 I minded God and made tumultuous-cries:
and I with meditation did pray :
and overwhelm'd my spirit was, Selah.
5 Thou heldest fast the watches of mine eyes
I was amazed, and could nothing say.
6 Daies of antiquitie I thought upon :
the years of ancient-eternitie 7 I minded in the night my melodie :
I with my hart had meditation;
my spirit also searched diligently 8 Ah wilt the Lord for ever cast-away:
and add no more, to accept-favourably ?
9 Is his mercy ceased perpetually ?
is his word ended, to eche age for aye ?
10 Hath God forgot for to deale-graciously ?
Hath he in wrath his mercies shut, Selah?
11 And is this it that makes me sick, said I:
the change, of the right hand of the most-high ?
12 I will record the actions of I A H:
will sure thy marvels mind from anciencie.
13 Of all thy work I will eke meditate ;

and of thy practises discourse wil I.

14 O God thy way is in the sanctuary:

Who is, as God, so great a Potentate?

15 Thou art the God, that workest wondrously:

Thou mad'st thy strength, mong peoples known to bee.

16 Thou didst with arme thy folke redeem-awaie:

the sonniss of Ia'kob, and Ioseph, Selah.

17 O God, the waters did thee see; thee see the waters did, tremble-with paine did thay:

Also the deeps tumult'ous stirred were.

18 Clouds, streamed waters; skies, a voice gave-out; thine arrowes also, they did walk about.

19 voice of thy thunder, was in th'aerie sphere; lightnings the world illumined throughout?

The earth, was stirr'd and tremblingly-quaked.

20 In sea thy way, in waters mighty-flown, thy path was: and thy footsteps were not known.

might rise up, and unto their sonns forth show.
- 7 And they their constant hope, in God might set:
his precepts keep; and not Gods acts forget.
- 8 And that they might not be, as their fathers,
a race that was rebellious and perverse:
a race that setled not their hart aright;
also with God, not faithfull was their spirit.

and in his law, to walk they did refuse.

and (which he had them shew'd,) his wondrous acts.

12 Before their fathers, he had marvels doon :
in land of Egypt, in the field of Tsoan.

13 He cleft the sea, and made them thorow goe :
made waters as an heap to stand also.

14 And with a cloud by day conducted them :
and all the night, with fire lightsom beam.

15 The Rocks within the wilderness he claue :
and as out of the great deeps, drinke he gaue,

16 And streames out of the rock he forth did send :
and waters, he like rivers made descend.

17 And they yet added, for to sin 'gainst him ;
in desert, to provoke the most supream.

18 And in their heart, tempted the God of might :
requiring meat, for their soules-appetite.

19 And speaking against God, said ; is God able,
To furnish in the wilderness a table ?

20 Loe, rock he smote, and waters out-gushed ;
and streames out flow'd : can also he giue bread ?
flesh for his people can he ready-dresse ?

21 Iehovah heard, and angry was for this :
And against Ia'kob kindled was a fier ;
'gainst Isr'el also, came up wrathful ire.

22 Because in God, they firm beleef had none :
and trusted not, in his salvation.

23 Though from aboue the skyes command did hee :
the doores of heav'n, he also op'ned free.

24 And raynd vpon them, Manna for to eate :
and gaue vnto them, of the heavens wheate.

25 Eche man did eat the bread of the Mightie :
he sent them meat, vnto satietie.

26 An east-wind in the heavens hee forth did moue ;
& south wind by his strength, hee forward droue.

27 And flesh vpon them as the dust he raind :
and fethered fowl, as the seas gravel sand.

28 And he within his camp them down did sell :
even round about places where he did dwell.

29 And they did eat, and veh'mently were fill'd :

and their desire, he vnto them did yeald.

30 Estranged they were not from their desire:
31 their meat yet in their mouth was. When Gods came vp against them, and their fat-men flew:
and choyse yong-men of Israel down-threw.

32 For all this yet with-sin-themselues they-blo and for his wondrous-workes beleeued not.

33 And he their daies in vanitie did spend:
and did their yeares, with hast: esterroure end.

34 When he them slew, they sought him-carefully:
and turn'd againe, and sought for God early.

35 And call'd to mind, that God their Rock should be:
and the most high God, their redeemer free.

36 But with their mouth they luerd him flatteringly:
and with their tongue, they vnto him did lie.

37 For their hart had with him no setlednesse:
nor in his cov'nant shew'd they faithfulness.

38 Yet he hauing compassionate-pitty, in mercy-covered iniquitie, and 'stroy'd them not: but oft turnd-back his ire and did not all his wrathfull-heate up styre.

39 For that they flesh were, he to mind did call:
a wind that goes, and turneth not at all.

40 How oft prouok't they him to bitternesse in desert: greiv'd him, in the wilderness?

41 For they did turne againe, and God tempted:
And Isr'els Holy-one, they limited.

42 They called not to mind his hand: the day, when from the foe he them redeem'd away.

43 When he his signes in Egypt-land had shown:
and his workes. wonderfull in field of Tsoan.

44 And turnd their rivers into bloody gore:
also their streams, that drinke they could no more.

45 He sent a mixed swarme, which ate them vp:
and frogs among them, which did them corrupt.

46 And gaue their fruit to Caterpillers spoyle:
and to the locust, their laborious, toyle.

47 Their vine-trees with the scattering-hail he kill'd:
and with the blasting hayle, their fig-trees will.

PSALME LXXVIII.

- 48 Their cattel to the hayle he gaue vp-fast:
also their flockes, vnto the lightnings-blast.
49 He sent on them, his angers ardentnesse, ferce-wrath and indignation, and distresse;
by sending forth the Messengers of ill.
He weighd a path out, to his angry-will:
their soule he from the death did not repriue:
and to the pest, their beasts he vp-did-giue.
51 And all the first-borne he in Egypt limes:
in tents of Cham, the chieftest of their might.

* 3 *

- 52 He made his folk as sheep forth-for to presse:
and as a flock led them, in wildernesse.
53 And led them safely, and they did not dread:
and those their enemies, the sea cov'red.
54 And to his holy border, he them trayn'd:
this mountaine, which his right-hand had obtaynd.
55 And from their faces cast out heathens all;
and made them in lyne of possession fall:
And he did cause the tribes of Israel,
within their tabernacles for to dwell.
56 Yet tempted they, and bitterly-greiued high God: and to his hefts, they tooke no heede.
57 But turned-back; and faithlesnesse did shew like to their farbers: turnde as warping bow.
58 And stirrde his anger by their places hye:
and by their idoles, styrrde his gealousie.
59 God heard this and he was exceeding-wroth;
and Itraell, he veh'menti did loath.
60 The dwelling-place of Shilo left he then:
the tent, that he had placed among men.
61 And gaue his strength into captiuitie:
into distressers hand eke, his glorie.
62 And to the sword his folke he gaue-up fast:
and with his heritage, his wrath surpast.
63 Their choyse-yongmen the fire deuoring ate:
their virgins, none with song-did celebrate.
64 Their sacrificers, by the sword did fall:
their widdowes also, did not weepe at all.

PSALM. LXXIX.

- 65 The Lord then as one out of sleep, did wake:
as strong man, after wine that shewt doth make:
66 And did behind smite his distressing-foes:
gaue them eternall shame opprobrious.
67 And he the tent of Ioseph did refuse:
and trybe of Ephraim, he did not chuse.
68 But trybe of Iudah, he by-choise approv'd:
the mountaine Sion, which he dearely lov'd.
69 And like hye places, built his sanctuarie:
like th'earth, which he founded t' eternitie.
70 And of his seruant Dauid choise did make:
and from the folds of sheep, he did him take.
71 Fro' th'ewes with yong, he brought him: his people
Iakob to feed; and his own, Israel.
72 And them he with his hearts perfection fed:
and by discretions of his hands, them led.

among themselues, mocke doe also our foes.
- 8 God of hosts turne vs : and thy countenance

- 9 A Vine thou didst remoue out of Egypt:
drovest the heathens out, and plantedst it.
- 10 Thou didst prepare the way before it : and mad'st it take deepe root, and it filld the land.
- 11 The mountaines were with shadow of it clad :
and boughes of it, were like Cedars of God.
- 12 Shee sent out to the sea her branching twigs:
and to the riuer, her yong sucking sprigs.

that all which passe the way by, haue her torne ?

wild-beasts eke of the field, make it their food.

and son, whom for thy selfe thou strengthened hast.

at the rebuke of thy face, perish thay.

on Son of man, whom thou mad'st strong for thee.
- 19 And wee will not goe backe away from thee:
quicken vs, add on thy name call will wee.
- 20 LORD God of hosts, turne vs : thy countenance

Sing this as the 33 Psalme.

TO God our strength, shewt-joyfully:

3 Take vp a psalm, & timbrell bring;

4 Blow vp the trumpet at new-moon :
in set time, at day of our feast.

5 For it to I s'el is an heast:
to Iakobs God, due to-bee dobn.

6 Hee this in Ioseph did bestow a witnesse : when as forth hee saerd from land of Egypt : where I heard a language, that I did not know.

7 His backe from burden I discharg'd:
his hands, did from the basket passe.

8 Thou calledst in distressed case, and I releasing thee. in larg'd:

and I to thee will testifie :

If hearken vnto mee wilt thou,

10 o Israell. If that in thee

a forreyne God there shall not bee:
nor thou vnto a strange God bow.

11 Iehovah God of thee I am;

which thee ascending vp did guide, from land of Egypt : open wide thy mouth, and I will fill the same.

12 But my people did not obey.

vnto my voyce : and Israel to mee was not affected well.

13 So I dismissed him away, in their owne counsels let them walke.

PSALME. LXXXII. LXXXIII.

- 14 Oh that obey'd mee had my folke:
 that Iſr'el in my wayes had gone, 15 Their enemies I had humbled, loone : turnd my hand their foes vpon.
 16 The haters of th'Eternall one, had feignedly. to him-yielded:
 and their time should for euer be.
 17 And with the fat of wheate they should be fed : and from the Rocke, I would with honey haue sufficed thee.

within the tents of wickednesse.

PSALM LXXXVII. LXXXVIII.

Above all Iakobs dwellings: IAH doth loue gates of Sion.

3 Of thee, citie of God, Selah; things glorious, spoken bee.

4 Rahab and Babell ile rehearse, vnto them that know mee;

Loe Palestine and Tyre with Cush:
this man, he borne was there.

5 Of Sion eke, it shall bee said;
ech man is borne in her:
and hee, that is the Highest one shall her establish fast.

6 Iehouah, when he writeth vp the peoples, count wil-cast:
this man he borne was there, Selah.

7 And there the singers bee as also they that play on fluits:
my wel-springs all in thee.

PSALM 88.

1 A song a psalme, to the sons of Korach: to the maister of the Musicke, on Machalah leannoth: an instructing psalme, of Heman the Aezrachite.

Sing this as the 13 Psalme.

Iehouah, thou the God of my saluation:
before thee, day and night, I make clamoration.

3 Fore thee, let come my pray'r: vnto my clamor-thrill,

4 bow thine ear. For with eu'ls my soule it bath it fil, my life, drawes neare to hell.

5 I counted am, with them that do goe-down the pit:

and with thy billowes all, vpon mee thou doost lay.
Selah.

PSALM. LXXXIII. LXXXIIII.

- 9 My knowne-friends thou hast put-farre, from mee :
hast mee set
lothsome to them : shut vp, that out I cannot get.
- 10 Through mine affliction, mine eie doth pine away :
thee doe I call vpon Iehovah, all the day :
my hands to thee display.
- 11 Wilt thou doe to the dead a work-miraculous?
or shall they rise-again that are deceft from vs ?
- 12 Shall they laud thee Selah? Shall thy benigne-mercy be told within the graue; or thy fidelitie,
in forlorn-miserie ?
- 13 Shal thy work maruelous be in the darknes known?
and thy justice, within land of oblivion?
- 14 But I, doo vnto thee Iehovah make my cry:
my prayer also, shal even in the morn-early prevent-thee speedily.
- 15 Wherfore doost thou reject my soule, o Iehovah?
thy countenance from me, why doft thou hide away?
- 16 I poor afflicted am, and breathing out the spight, euen from my youth : I beare, thy feare that do-as-

- 18 They compasse me about as waters, all the day :
against mee altogether, gone round about they are.
- 19 Lover and freind, from me thou hast removed far:
my known-friends darknesse are.

PSALME 89.

1 An instructing-psalm, of AEthau the AEzrachite.

Ehovahs mercies I will sing, unto eternitie :

to age and age, will with my mouth make knowne thy veritie. For I said, My mercies shal be built,

PSALM LXXXIX.

built, vnto eternitie : the heau'ns, thou firme.

establisth wilt in them thy veritie.

4 With mine elected-one, I haue stricken a couenant:
a-ratifying oath I gaue to Dauid my seruant.

5 Thy seed I will establisth sure,
vnto eternall-aye;
thy throne I also will buid vp,
to age and age, Selah.

6 And heauens, o Iehouah, shall thy wondrous worke confesse;
within th'assemblie of the saincts,
also thy faithfultesse.

7 For who may to Iehouah bee compared in the skie:

may to Iehouah likened be,
among sonnes of the Mightie :

8 God in the secret of the Saints, much terrible is hee:

and to be feared, ouer all
that round about him bee.

9 Iehouah, o thou God of hosts;
who like vnto thee is.

o mightie Iah? and round-about thee is thy faithfultesse.

10 Quer the swelling of the sea, thou ruling-bearest sway :

when waues thereof doe rise on bye, thou stilling them dost lay

11 And Rahab beaten-downe thou hast thine enemyes thou scattered hast, with arm of thy strong-might.

12 To thee the heavens also the earth doth unto thee belong:

the world and plentie of the same,
thou hast them founded strong.

13 The North and on right-side the South;
thou hast created them:

the Tabor and the Hermon-hill they shout shall in thy name.

14 Thou hast an arm with puissance:
thine hand is powerfullycorroborated, thy right-hand it is exalted hye.

15 Iustice and judgement of thy throne are the prepared-place:

mercifulnesse and faithfull truth,
doe goe-before thy face.

16 O blessed are the folk, that know the trumpets sounding-shrill:

Iehovah, in thy faces light they shall walk-forward-still.

17 In thy renowned name, they shall be glad some all the day:

and in thy justice-righteous, exalted be shall they.

18 For thou art of their fortitude
the bewtiful-glory:

and in thy favourable-grace,
our horn shall be lift-hy.

19 For our protecting-shield, unto Iehovah doth pertain:

to Holy-one of Israel

upon a mighty-one:

a choise one I out of the folk

21 exalted. Found have I, David my servant : oyncted have him with mine oyle holie.

22 With whom my hand shall stable be:
yea strength him shal mine arme.

23 The foe shall not exact on him ;
nor son of wrong him harme.

24 And I wil beat down from his face his strait-afflicting-foes :
and them that haters of him are,
with plague- I-smite will those.

25 Likewise with him my faithfulness shall be and my mercy:
and also in my name, his horn shall be exalted-hye.

26 His hand in sea ; his right hand in the rivers set will I.

27 My Father, (shall be call to me,) thou art, my God-mighty,
And rock of my salvation thou.
I also, wil grant him

to be the first-begot : above the Kings of the earth, supreme.

29 Forever I will keep for him
my merciful-kindnes :
my cov'nant eke to him shall bee of constant-faithfulness.

30 And I will-put his seed for aye :
as daies of heav'ns, his throne.

31 If his sonns leave, my law: and shall not, in my judgments gone.

32 If they my statutes shall-profane;
and not observe, my hests.

33 Ile visit then their sin with rod :
with stripes their crookednes.

34 And yet I wil not frustrate-make from with him my mercy:

neither against my faithfulness,
use-lying fallacy.

35 The covenant which I have made,
I will not it profane :

and that which is gone-out my lipps;
I will not change the same.

36 Once,sware I by my holines :
If I to David lye.

37 His seed,shalbe for ever : and his throne,as Sunn fore mee.

38 As Moon,it shalbe stablished , unto eternal-aye;

and as a witnes in the skye ,
that faithful is, Selah.

39 But thou hast cast-off and refus'd:
art-wroth with thine-oynted.

40 The covenant of thy servant,
thou hast abolished :

thou hast profaned, to the earth

41 his crown, Thou hast down-braist his hedges all : his fortresses a ruine, put-thou hast.

42 All they that passe along the way, spoil-him-with robbery :

he to his neighbours is-become,
a shameful-opprobrie :

43 Thou hast exalted the right-hand, of his afflicting foes :

and all his hatefull-enimies, thou hast rejoiced those.

44 Also the sharp-edge of his sword, rebat it thou hast :

and in the battel, hast thou not established him fast.

45 His brightnes thou hast made to cease:
and cast his throne to ground.

46 Dayes of his youth thou shorned hast:
with shame hast wrapt-him-round,

PSALM LXXXIX. XC.

- 47 How long LORD, wilt thou hide thy self
to perpetuities?
and burn shall as the very fyre
thy wrathful-servencie
- 48 O call thou to remembrance how I transitorie am:
to what vain state, thou didst create all children of Adam.
- 49 What man shall live, & not see death:
deliver shall away
his soul out of the powerfull-hand of deaths estate, Selah?
- 50 Where be thy former mercies, Lord:
thou by thy veritie,
- 51 to David swarst? Remember Lord, thy servants opprobrie:
that I doe in my bosome beare,
of all the folks mighty.
- 52 Wherewith thy foes Iehovah, doe reproch opprobriously:
wherewith the footsteps of thy Christ, reprochful-blame doe they,
- 53 Iehovah blest for ever be;
Amen, Amen, I say.

PSALM 90.

1. A prayer, of Moses the man of God:
Sing this as the 7. Psalm.

- O Lord; thou unto us hast been an habitation;
in every generation
and generation.
- 2 Before the mounts were born; and th'earth, and world brought-forth by thee:
even from eternitie thou art God to eternitee.
- 3 Thou dost unto contrition,
turn miserable-man;
and thou dost say, return again

PSALME XC.

ye children of Adam.

- 4 For, in thine eies, a thousand yeares, are even as yesterday
when it is pass'd : and as a watch that in the night doth stay.
- 5 As with a flowing current thou dost carry the m away;
they as a sleep are in the morn,
are as the changed hay.
- 6 It in the morning flourisheth, and groweth-changeably :
it in the evening is cut down,
and fadeth withering-dry.
- 7 For in thine anger we have been consumed utterly :
and in thy wrathfull-heat, we have been troubled-suddenly.
- 8 Our vicious iniquities before thee thou dost place:
our hidden-close iniquities to clear-light of thy face.
- 9 Because in thine exceeding-wrath
our daies all turn-away;
our yeares we have consumed-quite ;
even as a thought, were they.
- 10 The daies of these our yeares, in them are threeskore yeres and ten;
and if they be in valour-strong, fowrskore yeres in them been :
And their pride molestation is
and painful-miserie:
for speedily it is cut-down,
and we away doe flie.
- 11 O, who doth of thine anger know
the mighty-pow'rfulness?
according also to thy fear,
thy fervent-wrathfullnes?
- 12 To count the number of our daies, so skilful make us be :

PSALM. XC. XCI.

- that unto understanding-wise
 apply the hart may wee.
 13 Iehovah turn thy self again, how long wilt thou defer?
 let it repent thee also, for them that thy servants are.
 14 Thou with thy mercy satisfie us in the morn : that we,
 in all our dayes, even chearfully-may shewt and joyful be.
 15 O make thou us for to reioice, even as the dayes have been wherein thou hast afflicted us ;
 the yeaeres, we ev'l have seen.
 16 Vnto thy servants let thy work;
 appeare : thy comelines, 17 unto their sonns. And on us be,
 our LORD Gods pleasantnes ; and th'operation of our hands,
 upon us stablish-sure ;
 yea th'operation of our hands,
 establish it secure.

PSALME 91.

Sing this as the 78 Psalme:

- HE that in secret sits, of the Most-hye :
 shall lodge himself, in shade of th'Almightye.
 2 Say I, of IAH, my hope and my strong fence:
 my God, in him will I put confidence.
 3 For he from fowlers snare will thee deliver:
 4 from wofull pest. Will with his wing thee cover under his plumes thou hopeful shroud shalt thee his truth, a buckler and a shield shall be.
 5 Thou shalt not feare, for terrour of the night :
 nor for the arrow, that by day makes flight.
 6 For pest, that in the darknes maketh way :
 for stinging-plague; that wasteth at noon-day.
 7 Falln at thy side though thousand thousands bee at thy right-hand ; it shall not come-neare thee.

PSALM. XCI XCII.

- 8 Onely, thou with thine eyes shalt give regard:
and thou shalt see, the wicked mans reward;
9 Because thou IAH my safe protection:
the highest, thou hast made thy mansion.
10 There shall no euill vnto thee befall:
neither the plague, come-neare thy tent at all, 11 For he his Angels, will command for thee:
in all thy wayes, thy keepers for to bee.
12 And they shall beare thee up their hands upon:
lest thou doe dash thy foot against a stone.
13 Thou tread shalt on the Asp and lion-dread:
the Lyon-fierce and Dragon, down-shalt tread.
14 Because he cleaues to me ridd him will I:
because he knows my name, Ile let him hye.
15 Call he on me, Ile heare him, in distresse with him I: will him honour, and release.
16 With length of daies I will him satisfie:
and shew him my salvation will I.

PSALME 92.

1 A psalm a long, for the day of Sabbath.

Sing this as the 8. or the 35. Psalm.

- ITS good, unto Iehovah to confesse:
and to sing-psalm, to thy name o Most-hye.
To shew forth in the morning thy mercie:
and in the nights, thy constant faithfulness.
4 On ten stringd-luit, and on the psalterie:
vpon the harp with meditation.
5 For with thy work, LORD, thou rejoycest mee:
in acts of thy hands, I shout-cheerfully.
6 How great, Iehovah, are thine actions:
thy purposes deep are, vehemently:
7 A man that brutish is, know doth not hee:
and fool-inconstant, vnderstands not this.
8 When wicked spring, as grasse; and all flourish that work iniquitie: that they shall bee abolished vnto perpetualnes.
9 But thou, Iehovah, art for ever hie.
10 For loe thy foes, for loe the foes of thee,

PSALM. XCII. XCIII.

LORD, they shall perish: they shall scattered bee, all that doe work painfull-iniquity.

11 And high as Vnicorns shall my horn bee :

12 Mine old-age synsted with fresh oil. Mine eye shall view, on them that mine envyers bee:
mine eares, heare of yll-men that rise 'gainst mee.

13 The just, shall as a Palm-tree spring-up-hye as Lebanons, Cedar, so grow shall hee.

14 They that are planted, in Iehovahs house :
in courts of our God, flourishing shall been.

15 Shall yet in graynes sprowt : be fat and green.

1 Thy throne is stablisht of old:
thou from eternitee.

2 The floods haue list-ed-up,
O LORD; the floods their voice have list-ed-up : the floods they doe list-up their dashing-noise.

4 The LORD that is on high,
more wondrous-strong is hee.:
than manie waters voices than the strong sea billowes bee.

5 Thy testimonies, are made vehemently sure :
LORD, holines becomes thine house, while length of dayes doth dure.

PSALME 94.

Sing this as the 55 or as the 78 psalme.

Iehovah O thou God of vengeance:
O God of vengeance shine with cleannes.

Judge

PSALM. XCIV.

- Judge of the earth, be thou uplifted hye:
and render a reward, to men-haughtye.
- 3 How long, Iehovah, shall the wicked-men:
how long-while, shall the wicked gladfom been?
- 4 Vtter shall they, speak hard words lavishly:
boast shall they, all that work iniquitie?
- 5 Thy folk, Iehovah, they in-peeces bruise:
thine heritage afflicting they misuse.
- 6 They doe the widow and the stranger slay:
the fatherlesse eke, murder them doe they.
- 7 Also they say, Iah shall not see it: and the God of Iakob, shall not understand.
- 8 O brutish people, understand doe yee and O ye fools, when will ye prudent bee?
- 9 He that did plant the care, heare shall not hee?
or he that form'd the eye, shall he not see?
- 10 Shall he not blame, that beathens chastiseth?
that knowledge unto earthly-man teacheth?
- 11 The cogitations of man-earthly,
Iehovah knowes: that they are vanity.
- 12 O blessed is the man whom thou O IAH doft chasten: and him teach out of thy law.
- 13 From evil-dais, to make him quiet sit:
till for the wicked, digged be a pit.
- 14 For his people Iehovah will not leave:
and wil not his inheritance bereave.
- 15 But unto justice, judgment shall revert:
and after it all the upright in heart.
- 16 Who will rise-up for mee, 'gainst evil-men?
who stand for me, against workers of sin?
- 17 Had not Iehovah been my helpfules:
my soul had almost dwelt in silentnes.
- 18 When I did say, my foot is mov'd-away thy mercy O Iehovah, did me stay.
- 19 When manie in me were my cogitations:
delight my soule then did thy consolations.
- 20 Hath throne of mischiefs fellowship with thee:
which frameth molestation by decree?
- 21 They run-by-troups, against soul of just-man:

PSALM. XCV.

- and guiltless blood, as wicked they doe damn:
 22 But IAH to mee is for a refuge-hye:
 and my God, for the rock of my safety.
 23 And he will surely turn themselves upon their own unrighteous molestation:
 and them suppress in their maliciousnes:
 Iehovah our God, he will them suppress.

 3 Because the LORD is a great God mighty:
 a great King eke, above all God is hee.
 4 In whose hand are the earth deep secrecies:
 the strong, heights of the mountains eke are his 5 His is the sea, for he did make the same:
 and the dry-land, for that, his hand did frame.
 6 Come, let us bend and bowing-down-adore:
 the LORD our maker, let us kneel before.
 7 For, he our God is; and the people wee of his pasture, and sheep of his hand ~~wee~~ :
 his voice if ye shall hear the same, to day.
 8 Make not your hart hard, as in Meribah:
 as in the wildernes in Massah day.
 9 Where me your fathers tempting did-essay:
 they proved me, also they saw my deed.
 10 I forty yeares, was with that race yrked:
 and said, a folk they are in hart that stray:
 and of my waies the knowledge have not they.
 11 That in my wrath I did with oath-protest:
 If ever they enter, into my Rest.

preach his salvation, from day to day.
- 3 His glorie tell among the nations:
'mong peoples all his wondrous actions,
- 4 For great Iehovah praised: eke is he greatly : fearful, above all Gods he is.
- 5 For all the peoples Gods vain-idols be:
but of the heav'ns Iehovah maker is.
- 6 Glory and honour are before his face:
strength and beauty, within his Holy-place.

give to Iehovah, glorie strength also.
- 8 Give ye the glory of his name to IAH:
an offering take, and come his courts into.
- 9 Bow-down in th'honourable Holy-place to IAH the whole earth tremble at his face.
- 10 Among the heathen-nations say ye, Iehovah reigneth ; also stables the world shall have it shall not moved bee :
the peoples he will judge, with righteousness.
- 11 Let heav'ns be glad, and let the earth rejoyce:
let sea and plenty thereof roar-with-noise.
- 12 The field and all therein let gladfom bee:
let all the trees of th'wood then shewt with-merth,
- 13 Before Iehovah, because come doth hee; because he commeth for to judge the earth :
the world he judge will with just-righteousnesse:
the peoples also, with his faithfulness.

PSALME 97.

PSALME XCvii.

justice and judgement, his thrones stableness.

3 Fire, doth before the face of him proceed:
and round-about his enemies flameth.

4 His lightnings have the world illumined;
the earth, doth see and painfully-trembleth.

5 Mounts at Iehovahs presence melted are, like waxe : at face, of Lord of th'earth totall.

6 The heavens his justice openly-declare :
and see his glorie, doe the peoples all.

7 Abash'd be all that serve a grauen-thing;
that in vaine idols boast them gloriously:
O all yee Gods bow down him worshipping:

8 Sion doth hear, and joyeth-cheerfully ;
And Iudahs daughters shew do-glad-som-merth because, Iehovah, of thy judgements-right.

9 For thou Iehovah high 'boue all the earth :
art farre aboue all Gods, advanst-in hight.

10 O lovers of Iehovah, hate yee yll:
soules of his gracious-saints he doth beware ;
he also them safely-deliver-will,
out of the hand of those that wicked are.

11 A light, for him that just is, sown there is:
and joy, for them that upright hearted bee.

12 Yee just, joy in Iehovah: and confesse, to the remembrance of his sanctitee.

PSALM. XCVIII.

1 A Psalm;

Sing this as the 1 Psalm.

A New song, to Iehovah sing,
for marvels done hath hee:
his right hand hath him saved, and his arme of sanctitie.

Iehovah, his salvation hath made known: unto the eyes even of the nations, he hath revealed his justice.

His mercie, and his faith, to house of Isr'el he thinks on:
the ends all of the earth have seen,
our Gods salvation.

Vnto Iehovah, all the earth,
showt ye triumphantly:

showt chearefully, and joyfull-showt and sing-melodiously:

vnto Iehovah with the harp melodiously-sing yee:

ev'n with the harp and with the voice of singing-melodee.

With shrilling-trumpets, also with the cornets sounding voice:

before the King Tehovah face, shout-with-triumphant-noise.

Let sea and plentie therof roare:

World, and that therin dwell,

Let rivers clap the hands: let mounts with joy together shrill.

Before Iehovahs face, for he
to judge the earth, come is:

with justice he will judge the world:
and folks, with equities.

PSALME 99.

PSALM. XCIX.

he sits on Cherubims, the earth is troublously-moved.

- 2 Jehovah, great in Sion: and is boue all peoples hye.
- 3 Let them thy great and fearfull name confesse; it is holy.
- 4 The Kings strength also judgement loues:
thou, righteous-equities hast stablished; in Iakob hast done judgement and justice.
- 5 Exalt Ichovah our God yee,
and bow your selves submisle,
even at the footstoole of his feet;
because he holy is.
- 6 Moses and A'ron, with his Priests;
and Samuel, with them
that call on his name: call'd on IAH, and he did answer them.
- 7 Even in the pillar of the cloud, unto them speak did hee:
they kept his witnessses, and (which he gave them,) the decree.
- 8 O Lord our God, thou answeredst them a God that pardonedst, thou wast to them; upon their acts though vengeance thou takedst.
- 9 Exalt Ichovah our God ye,
and bow your selves submisle
at his mount holy: for holy Ichovah our God is.

singing-merth. ¶ Know that Iehovah the God is,

Its he that made us, and not we:
his folk, and sheepe of his feeding.

4 O with confession enter yee his gates, his courtyards with praising:
Confesse to him, blesse ye his name.

5 Because Iehovah he good is:
his mercie ever is the same :
and his faith; unto all ages.

PSALME 101.

1 A Psalm of David:

sing this as the 27 Psalm.

Mercie and judgement I will sing :
sing Psalm o LORD to thee.

Will wisely doe in perfect way;
when, wilt thou come to mee?

Ile walk, in midst of my house,
in my hearts perfectnes.

3 I will not set, before mine eyes,
word of mischevousnes :

I hate their fact that turn-aside.
it shall not cleave me to,

4 The froward heart, from me shall part:
the ev'l, I will not know.

5 I will suppress, him that his friend., with-tongue-hurts secretly :
the haughtie eyde, and large of heart;
him suffer can not I.

6 Mine eyes, on faithfull of the land, that

PSALME. CII.

that sit with me they may unto me minister-shall hee, that walks in perfect way.

- 7 He shall not sit, within my house, that doth fraud : that speaks lies;
he shall not be established in prelence of myne eyes.
- 8 At mornings, all the wicked of the land suppress will I;
out of IAH'S Citie to cut, all that work iniquitie.

PSALME 102.

1 A prayer, for the poor-afflicted when he shal be ouerwhelmed : and shall powre forth his meditation before Ichovah.

Sing this as the 32 Psalme.

Ichovah, heare what I doe pray:
and let my cry come unto thee.

- 3 Thy face from me hide not away,
in day when trouble is on mee :
let unto me thine care be bent;
in day I call, soone answer mee.
- 4 For as the smoke my daies are spent:
and as an hearth, my bones burnt be.
- 5 Mine heart is smit as grasse and dry :
that I forget, to eat my bread.
- 6 For the voice of my groning cry :
my bone is to my flesh cleaved.
- 7 I am like deserts pelican:
am, as an owl of wildernesse.
- 8 I watch, and as a sparrow am ;
on roof in solytarinesse.
- 9 All day my foes doe me upbrayd:
they that rage at me , 'gainst me swear.
- 10 For I doe ashes eat, as bread :
and mixe my drinks with weeping-tear.
- 11 Because of thine angry disdayn, and thy hot-wrath ; for thou hast me

PSALM. CII.

up heaved, and cast down againe.

My daies, as shade declined be:

And with' red as the grasse am I.

And thou Iehovah, fittest sure for ever : and thy memorie, doth unto age and age endure.

Thou wilt arise, wilt have mercie on Sion : for it is the time to deale now with it graciously, for come is the appointed-time.

For thy servants, stones of the same delight in : and her dust pittie.

& heathens fear shall the Lords name and Kings of th'earth all, thy glorie.

When IAH shall Sion edifie:

he in his glorie shall appear.

Shall turn, to pray'r of the lowlie:

and not despise shall, their prayer.

This shall in writ-be registred, for th'after generation:

and people to be created,

shall prayse the Ever-being-one,

For he looks from his height holy :

he Lord from heav'ns the earth doth see

To hear, the prisoners groning cry :

to loose them that deaths children be.

To tell the LORDS name, in Sion :

and his praise, in Ierusalem.

When peoples, and Kingdomes, in one:

to serve the Lord, shall gather-them.

He hath afflicted in the way

my strength: he shortned hath my daies,

I said, o take me not away,

God, in midst of my daies.

Thy yeares through age of ages are.

Afore, thou layd'st foundation th'earth : the heavens also, are thy handie operation.

They perish shall, but thou shalt dure:

PSALM. CIII.

- and all they, shall with age decay.
 as a garment : as a vesture, thou changeit them and chang'd are they.
 28 But thou art even the same : thy yeares they also shall not ended be.
 29 Thy servants sonns, and seed of theirs shall dwell ; establish before thee.

PSALM 103.

1 A Psalm of David ;
 Sing this as the 45 . Psalm.

- MY soule, blesse thou Iehovah thankfully:
 and all my inward-parts his holy name.
 2 My soule, blesse thou Iehovah thankfully:
 and his rewards, forget none of the same.
 3 that pardoneth all thine iniquities:
 that healeth, all thy sick-infirmities.
 4 Thy life that ransoms from corrupting state :
 crownes thee with mercie and with tender-ruth.
 5 That doth thy mouth with good things satiate :
 renewed as the Eagles, is thy youth.
 6 Iehovah doeth justices equal:
 and judgements, unto the oppressed all.
 7 He know did make his wayes unto Moses:
 His acts, the sons of Israel among.
 8 Iehovah pittifull and gracious is:
 of mercie much, and of forbearance long.
 9 Contend he will not to continuall aye:
 neither will he his anger keep alway.
 10 After our sinns, to us done hath not he :
 nor us rewarded as our actions wrong.
 11 But as the heav. ns, in height above earth be:
 To them that feare him is his mercie strong, 12 As farr-remote as East is from the West :
 our trespasses he far from us hath cast.
 13 As father pittie hath his sonns upon:
 Iehovah pittieith them that him feare.
 14 For he doth know our formed-fashion:
 that we are dust, in record he doth bear,

PSALME CIII. CIV.

Man-sorrowfull, as grasse so are his dayes:
as floure of field he flourishing displays.

For wind goes over it, and it is gone:
and place therof knowes not the same againe.

But bounteous-mercie of th'Eternall-one,
from ever and for ever doth remaine, upon them that his reverencers been:
his justice eke to childrens children.

To them that of his cov'nant keepers are:
and that his precepts mind, them to practise.

Iehovah doth in heav'ns his throne prepare:
his Kingdome, over all hath soverainties.

O ye his Angels, blesse th'Eternal-LORD:
That mightie are of strength, that doe his word;

Vnto the voyce of his word, hearkning-still.

O blesse Iehovah all ye his armies, his Ministers that doe his pleasing will.

O blesse Iehovah all ye works of his,
in places all of his dominion:

O thou my soule, blesse the Eternall-one.

PSALME 104.

Sing this as the 33. Psalme.

MY soule, & blesse thou Iehovah:
Iehovah my God, veb mently, thou great art: thou with majestic and honour dost thy selfe aray.

Decking with light as with a coat:
heav'ns as a curtaine out-stretching.

His lofts, in waters planchering:
making the clouds his chariot;

That on wings of the winde walketh!

His Angels spirits he making:

his Ministers a fire flaming.

Th'earth on her bases he foundeth.

That it for ever may not move neither for aye. Thou with the deep as with a robe didst close-it-keep:

the waters stood the mounts above.

PSALME. CIV.

- 7 At thy rebuke they fled away:
they hasted at thy thunders sowne.
 - 8 Mounts they went up, dales they went down:
to place for them thou firm-didst lay.
 - 9 Thou settest a bound, they shall not passe:
nor turne the earth to overflow.
 - 10 That sendeth springs in vallies-low:
betweene the mountains they doe trace.
 - 11 They water, all beasts of the field:
wild asses quench their thirsting-dry.
 - 12 The soule of heavens doe dwell them by.
From twixt the branches, voyce they yeild.
 - 13 He watreth mounts from his lofts-hye:
the earth is fill'd, with thy works fruit.
 - 14 He makes to grow grasse for beasts brute and hearbs, for use of man earthly:
He brings forth bread out of the ground.
 - 14 And joyes the heart of man with wine;
makes face with oyle cheerfull to-shine:
with bread, mans hearr upholdeth-sound.
 - 16 I AHS trees, Cedars of Libanus, which he hath planted, they are filld.
 - 17 That there, the birds their nests may build:
the Stork, the firr, trees are her house.
 - 18 For the wild-goats, the mountaines tall:
the rocks, for Conies sheltring shade.
 - 19 The Moon, for certain times he made:
the Sun, he knoweth his down fall.
- * 2 *
- 20 Darknes thou putst, and it is night:
therein creep forth the wood beasts all.
 - 21 Lions for prey that roaring-call:
and seek their meat from God of might.
 - 22 The Sun doth rise, they gath'r-a-side:
and in their dens, they down, do lurk.
 - 23 Out-goeth man unto his work:
and to his labour, till even tide.
 - 24 O L O R D, how many thy works be:
in wisdom hast thou done them all:

PSALME CII.

of thy riches the earth is full.

25 The same great and wide spacious sea:
There are wilde beasts, small with the great;
things creeping which none number can,

26 There go the ships; and Livjathan, whom thou hast form'd to play in it.

27 They all to thee to give their food in due time look attentively.

28 Thou giv'st to them, gather do they:
op'nest thy hand, they'r fil'd with good.

29 Thy face thou hiding dost restrain, they troubled are: gather thou dost their spirit, they breath out the ghost;
and to their dust they turn again.

30 Thou sendest-forth thy spirit, and they created are: the upper-view of th'earth thou also dost renew.

31 Iehovahs glory be for aye:
Ioy let Iehovah in his deeds.

32 Vpon the earth he down looketh and it doth tremble: he toucheth the mounts and smoke from them proceeds.

33 I while I live will sing to IAH:
will while I am, to my God sing:

34 Sweet shall of him be my musing:
I, will rejoyce in Iehovah.

35 Let sinners be consum'd-away, out of the earth: and men gracelesse be they no more; Iehovah blesse o thou my soule; Halelujah.

PSALME 105.

4 Seek ye Jehovah and his strength ; seek studiously his face alway.

5 His admirable actions that he hath done, remember yee:
his wondrous operations,
and judgements that of his mouth bee.

6 O seed of Abram his servant :
O sonns of Iakob his chosen.

7 Even he Jehovah our God is:
in all the earth his judgements been.

8 His covenant for evermore he mindfully-doth-think-upon:
the word that he commanded, to the thousand generation.

9 Which he did strike with Abraham :
also his oath unto Ilaak.

10 And for an ordinance the same
Did unto Iakob stable-make:

A cov'nant of eternitie

11 To Israel. Saying, to thee the land of Can'an give will I:
line of your heritage to bee.

12 When they were men of number; few,

13 and strangers in it. And did walk from nation to nation :

from one realm, to another folk.

14 He suffred none them wrong to doe:
but for their sake reprov'd Kings.

15 Touch not mine Ointed-ones: and to my Prophets doe no evill-things.

16 And he call'd famine on the land;
of bread he break did all the staff.

17 Before them he had sent a man ;
Ioseph, that sold was for a slave.

18 His feet with fetters they did wring, his soule the yron entered.

19 Yntill the time that his word came :
Jehovahs saying him tried,

PSALM. CV.

- 10 The King sent, and did let him loose;
the peoples ruler, him releast.
 - 11 He 'pointed him Lord of his house :
and ruler, of all he posselt.
 - 12 To bind his Princes to his will :
and make his Elders understand.
 - 13 And Isr'el unto Egypt came :
and Iakob sojour'd in Chams land.
 - 14 And he his people much increast: & 'bove their foes he made them strong
 - 15 He turn'd their heart, to hate his folk.
to doe his servants crafty wrong.
- * 2 *
- 26 Moses his servant, he did send:
and A'ron, him whom he did chose.
 - 27 They did 'mong them, words of his signes, and wonders, in Chams land, propose.
 - 28 Darknes he sent, and made it dark:
and 'gainst his word rebell'd not they.
 - 29 He turn'd their waters into blood:
And he their fish with death did slay.
 - 30 Their land brought-forth froggs plenteously, in privy-chambers of their Kings.
 - 31 He spake, and it a mixed-swarm :
and lice, in all their border brings.
 - 32 He gave their showers, hayle to bee:
fire in their land of flames. that-blast.
 - 33 And smote their Vine and their Figtree:
and trees throughout their border brast.
 - 34 He spake, and the grasshoppers came:
and caterpillars numberless.
 - 35 And ate up all herbs in their land :
and did eat vp their grounds increase
 - 36 He smote all first borne in their land:
ev'n the first fruits of all their might.
 - 37 And brought forth them with silv'r and gold:
and in their tribes, no feeble wight.
 - 38 Egypt rejoyst when they went out :
for fall'n upon them had their dread.

PSALM. CV. CVI:

- 39 A cloud for cov'ring; and a fire
to light the night, he did out-spread.
40 They asked and the quails he brought.
and with heav'ns bread sufficed them.
41 He op'ned rocks and waters flow'd; ran in drie-places, like a stream.
42 For, to his servant Abraham, his holy promise minde did he.
43 And brought his people forth with joy;
his chosen ones with shouting-glee.
44 And gave to them the heathens lands; peoples labour possesse did they.
45 That they his statutes might observe, and keep his lawes; Halelujah.

PSALME 105.

Sing this as the 27 psalme.

- H Alelu-Iah; confesse ye to Iehovah thankfully.
for he is good: for evermore indureth his mercie.
2 Who can expresse, Iehovahs powrs;
can all his praise display?
3 O blest are they that judgement keep;
that justice doth, alway.
4 Remember me Iehovah, with the acceptation
of thy people, and visit me,
with thy salvation.
5 To see thy chosens good, and with thy nations joyance
for to rejoyce: to glory-hye with thine inheritance.
6 We have with our fore-fathers done erroneous-sinfulnesse:
we have done wrong-iniquitie
we have done wickednesse.
7 Our fathers in Egypt, did not thy marvels wisely-minde;

PSALM. CVI.

remembered not the multitude of those thy mercies-kinde:

But, at the sea at the red sea,
was their rebellion-shown,

8 Yet sav'd he them, for his name sake:
to make his power known.

9 And he rebuked the red sea,
and up the same was dryde:
and them as in the wildernesse
he in the deeps did guide.

10 And from hand of the hatefull-foe
he did them freely-save:
and from the hand of th'enemie,
he them redemption-gave.

11 And waters their distressers whelm'd:
none left was them among.

12 And they beleev'd in his words:
his glorious-praise they sung

* 2 *

13 They hastened-incontinent, his doings they forgot:
for his advising-counsell, they expecting-wayted not.

14 But sore in wildernes did lust:
and God in desert tempt.

15 He gave them their request: but to their soul he leanness sent.

16 And Moses, in the camp; A'ron Iehovahs holy man

17 they envied. The earth op'ned, and swallow'd up Dathan:
and on the congregation of Abiram cov'ed.

18 And fire in their assembly burn'd:
the flame burnt the wicked.

19 They made a calf in Horeb: and toth'idoll bow did they.

20 And turn'd their glory to the forme of oxe, that eateth hay.

PSALM. CVI.

- 21 They forgot God their saviour; that in Egypt did great-acts.
- 22 Works marvelous in land of Cham:
by red sea, fearfull-facts.
- 23 And he sayd, to destroy them, had not Moses his chosen, stood in the breach 'fore him: to turn his wrath, from stroying them.
- 24 And they contemn'd, the pleasant land:
beleev'd not his word.
- 25 But murmured within their tents:
heard not voyce of the LORD.
- 26 And to sell them in wildernes;
he lift to them his hands.
- 27 'Mong heathens eke to sell their seed:
and fann them in the lands.
- 28 And to Baal Peor they were joynd:
ate offerings of the dead.
- 29 And moved-anger by their acts:
and plague among them spread.
- 30 And Phineas stood, and judgement did and plague was caus'd to stay.
- 31 Which counted was to him, justice:
to age and age, for ay.
- 32 And at waters of Meribah, they angred-fervently;
that unto Moses for their sake befell calamitie.
- 33 For they provok't his spirit: and he
it with his lipps utt'ed.
- 34 The peoples, as the LORD them bade:
they not a bolished.
- 35 But with the heathens mixt themselves:
and did their doings learn.
- 36 And serv'd their idols: which to them were, for a snaring-grin.
- 37 Their sonns and daughters also, they
to divels offered.

PSALM CVI.

38 And guiltlesse blood, blood of their sonnes and of their daughters shed : Whom to Canaans Idols, they
in sacrifice-offred :

so that the land with bloody-gore was impiously-stayned.

39 And they themselves defiled by their operations:

they went a whoring also, by their wonted actions.

40 And 'gainst his people, kindled was the anger of the LORD:

so that his own-inheritance
he loathsomly-abhor'd.

41 He gave them into Heathens hand:
their haters them ruled.

Their foes opprest them: and they were under their hand humbled

42 He many times delivered them:
but they mov'd bitterly

by their counsell, and were brought-down by their iniquitie.

43 Yet he did see in their distresse;
when as he heard they cry.

44 And toward them his covenant
he kept-in-memorie :

and in his mercies multitude ,

45 repented. And did give them to compassions : before, all that them led captive.

46 Save us, O LORD our God ; and us from heathens joyntly-raise, for to confesse thine holy name,
to glory in thy praise.

47 Bless'd be Iehovah, Isr'els God, from aye and unto ay:

and let all people say, Amen:

O prayle th' eternall- Iah.

PSALM CVII.

Sing this as the 18 Psalm.

- Confessye to Iehovah thankfully.
for he is good : for ever his mercy.
- 2 Let the redeemed of Iehovah say:
whom he from foes hand hath redeem'd away.
- 3 And gather them out of the lands did he;
from east from west ; from north and from the sea.
- 4 They in the wildernes in desert way wandred : no dwelling citie find-did thay.
- 5 Hungry and thirsty eke : ~~that~~ them within their soule, hath fainting-overwhelmed bin.
- 6 And to the Lord they cryde in their distress:
he freely-rid them from their anguishes.
- 7 And in a right way he did make them goe :
a dwelling citie for to come unto.
- 8 Confesse they to Iehovah his mercy:
his marvels eke, to sonns of man-earthly.
- 9 For he the thirsty soule hath satiated :
and hungry soule with good replenished:
- 10 They that in darknes and deaths shadow bide:
in yron and affliction fast tyde.
- 11 Because against Gods words they did rebell :
and did despise the Highest-ones counsell.
- 12 Then humbled he their hart with toylsom-grief:
they stumbled-down, and none did yeild relief.
- 13 And they the LORD in their distresse besought:
- 14 he sav'd the from their sortowes. He them brought,
from darknes & deaths shade: and broke, their bands.
- 15 Let them confels Iehovahs mercy : and
- 16 his marvels to mens sonns. For dores of brasle he broke: and hew'd-asunder yron barrs.
- 17 Fools, for the way of their transgression:
and for their vices have-affliction.
- 18 All meat their soule abhorreth loathsomly:
and to the gates of death, approach they nye.
- 19 When to the Lord they cry in their distress :
he saveth them out of their anguishes.
- 20 He sendeth forth his word, and them healeth:

from

PSALME CVII.

from their corruptions, delivereth.

21 Confess they to Iehovah his mercy :
his marvels eke to sonns of man-earthly.

22 And offer offerings of confession ;
And let them tell his works, with showing-song.

* 2 *

23 They that in ships unto the sea down goe:
that in the many waters labour doe.

24 They, see Iehovahs operations:
and in the deep, his wondrous-actions.

25 For he sayth, and doth raise the wind stormy:
and it doth lift the waves thereof on hye.

26 They mount to heav'ns, down to the deeps they their soul it melts away in evil-woe. (goes)

27 They reel and stagger like a drunken-wight:
and all their wisdom is up swallowed quight.

28 And to the LORD they cryde in their distress:
and he out-brings them, from their anguishes.

29 The storme he to a silent-caulm doth set:
and then their waves allayed-are quiet.

30 And they rejoyce because they are made still,
and he them leads to haven of their will.

31 Confesse they to Iehovah his mercy:
his marvels eke, to sonns of man-earthly.

32 And in the peoples church exalt they him:
and in the Elders sitting praise they him.

33 He turns the rivers to a wildernes, and springs of waters, to a thirstines.

34 A land of fruit, to saltines barren:
for wickednes, of them that dwell therein.

35 He turns the desert to a waters pool, and land of drought, to waters plentiful.

36 And there he seateth them that hungry are:
and they a dwelling citie doe prepare.

37 They vinyards also plant, and sow the fields:
Which fruit of usuall revenue yeilds.

38 And he them bleffeth, and they are increast greatly : and he minisheth not their beast.

39 Again they are, diminish'd and brought low :

by

PSALM CVIII.

by close-reſtreynr, by evill and ſorrow.

- 40 He powrs contempt on bountifull-princes :
and makes them erre in wayleſſ wildernes.
41 and poore from povertie he makes-up-riſe :
and putteth as a flock his families.
42 See ſhall the righteous and joyfull bee.
and ſtop her mouth ſhall all iniquitee.

1 To the mayster of the musick a Psalm of David:
sing this as the 27 Psalme.

GOD of my prayse, cease-not-as deafe.
For mouth of the wicked,

the PSALME CIX.

 against me are op'ned :
 they speak to me, with lying tongue.
- 3 And 'bout me compass are with words of hate : and without cause against me they doe warre.
- 4 They adversaries are to me for my love: but I pray.
- 5 And yll for good; and for my love,
 they hatred on me lay.
- 6 Set thou in office over him
 the wicked-person : and let th'adversarie-Satan, at his right-hand ready-stand.
- 7 When he shall judged be, let him condemned goe his wayes:
 and let his prayer be to sin.
- 8 A few let be his dayes:
 his office, let an other take.
- 9 His sonnes be fatherlesse:
- 10 his wife, a widow. And his sonns wander about waylesse, and let them beg : and seek, out of their desolate-places.
- 11 Let the extorting-creditour insnare, all that is his:
 and of his labour, let strangers make spolyfull-robberie.
- 12 Let there be none, that unto him
 may forth-extend mercie:
 And favour to his fatherlesse to shew let there be none.
- 13 Let his posteritie be set unto perdition:
 in th'after generation,
 his name out-wiped bee.
- 14 Remembred of the LORD, be his fathers iniquitee:
 his mothers sin be not wip'd out.

PSALM. CIX.

15 Be they continually
before the LORD: and he cut off, from th'earth their memorie.
16 Because he mercie minded not to doe: but pursued
th'afflicted and the needie man:
to slay, the heart-wounded.

17 And cursing he did love, and let it come to him: and he delighted not in blessing, and farre from him let it bee.
18 And he him clad with cursing as

as waters into his in-part;
as oile, his bones into.
19 As garment let it to him be,

and for a girdle, wherewith he may gird him ſelſe alway.

that aduerſe are to me:
and of them that againſt my ſoule

21 But thou Iehovah Lord, with me doe well, for thine own name:
for good thy mercie is, rid me.
22 For I afflicted am:
and I am needie: wounded eke within me is mine hart.

I toſſed am as graſſe-hopper.

through faſting: and my fleſh for want of fat is wexen-lean.

and be abashed with shame;
and let thy servant joyfull be.

with infamie: and with their shame,
as with a cloke, be clad.

my mouth vehemently:
and in the midds of many, will
I praise him thankfully.

PSALM CIO.

1 A Psalm of David.

Sing this as the 1. psalme.

- Iehovah sayd, unto my Lord, thou at my right hand sit:
untill I set thine enemies,
the footstool of thy feet.
2 Rod of thy strenght, Iehovah he will send out of Sion:
in midst of thine enemies,
have thou dominion.
3 Thy folk free, in day of thy power:
in holy beauties bee,
even of the womb of th'early-morn,
dew of thy youth, to thee.
4 Iehovah sware, will not repent;
thou art a Priest for aye:
after the order that I of Melchisedek did say.
5 The Lord at thy right hand, shall wound Kings, in day of his wrath,

PSALME CXL.

6 Among the heathens he shall iudge, with corpses fill'd he hath:
shall wound the head over much land.
7 Drink of the brook shall he within the way: therefore, his head shall hye- uplifted be.

PSALME CXL.

Hallelu jah;

This may be sung also as the 45 Psalme.

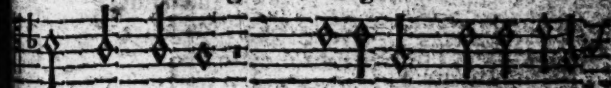

Wil confesse Iehovah with th'wole heart : in secret and assemblie of th'upright. 2 Iehovahs actions are verie great , sought out of all that in them doe delight. 3 Glorie and comely honour his work is: and stand perpetually doth his iustice.

His marvels he remembred makes to be:

Iehovah gracious and pittifull.

Food, unto them that fear him given hath he:

He of his cov'nant ever is mindfull.

PSALME CXII.

- 6 He shew'd his people, his acts puissance:
giving to them, the heathens heritage.
- 7 The works of his hands, truth and judgment are:
his precepts all, are of sure-faithfulness.
- 8 For aye for ever stablished they are:
done, in assured truth and righteousness.
- 9 Redemption he to his people sent:
for ever he commanded his cov'nant:
Holy, and to be feared is his name.
- 10 Iehovahs fear, wisdoms beginning is:
good prudence have all that doe those same:
his praise, abideth to perpetualnesse.

PSALME IIZ.

Halelu-jah.

Sing this as the III. Psalm.

- O Blessed man ; that doth Iehovah fear :
that greatly doth in his commands delight.
- 2 His seed, in earth shall mighty persevere:
blessed shall be, the race of the upright.
 - 3 In his house riches are and wealthy store:
his justice standeth eke, for ever more.
 - 4 Vnto th' upright, in darknes light ascends :
gracious and pitifull and just he is.
 - 5 A good man dooeth graciously and lends;
he moderates in judgement his speeches.
 - 6 Sure he shall not be mov'd eternally:
the just shall be t' eternall memory.
 - 7 He will not fear, for ill that he doth heare:
his heart is fixed in Iehovah bold.
 - 8 his heart is stablished, he wil not fear:
until on his distressers he behold.
 - 9 He scattred hath abroad, giv'n to the poore :
his justice standeth even for evermore.
His horn with honour shall exalted be.
 - 10 See and be angry shall the wicked-wight:
gnash with his teeth, and melt away shall he:
the wicked-mans desire, shall perish quite.

PSALM. CXIII. CXIV.

Halelu-jah.

Sing this as the 84. or as the 90 Psalme.

O Servants of Iehovah praise:
praise ye Iehovahs name alwayes.

Iehovahs name it blessed bee:

from this time, to everlasting.

3 From Sun rise to his down going:
Iehovahs name it prayes bee.

4 Above nations all; Iehovah hye:
above the heav'ns is his glorye.

5 Who like Iehovah our God is that doth, to sit, on high-him place

6 That doth, to see, him low-debase:
in heavens, in the earth likewise.

7 From dust he doth the needie rear:
from dounge he doth the poor up beare.

8 To set him with the Noble-men:
with Noble-men of his people.

9 Hee makes the barren woman dwell, a joyfull mother of children.

PSALME. CXIV.

Sing this as the 33. Psalme.

VVhen Isr'el from Egypt yssued:
Iakobs house; from folk of speach-rude:
2 Iudah became his sanctuarie:
And Israel his Seigniorie.

3 The sea saw, and away it fled:
the river Iarden, back turned.

4 The mountaines leaped like to rammes:
the hills, like to the flocks yong lammes.

5 O sea, what ayl'd thee, that thou fledst;
O Iarden, that thou back turnedst?

6 O mountaines, that ye leapt like rammes?
yee hilles, like to the flocks yong lammes?

7 O tremble earth, before the Lord:
before the face, of Iakobs God.

PSALM CXV.

That turnes the Rock, to water lakes.
the flint, a waters fountaine makes.

PSALME 115.

Sing this as the 27. Psalme.

NOt unto us LORD, not to us:
but unto thy name, bee
the glorie giv'n, for thy mercie;
and for thy veritee.

2 O wherefore should the heathen folk say: where is now, their God?

3 But our God is in heav'ns: he doth, what'ever seems him-good,

4 Their idol gods, silver and gold:
the work of mens hands bee.

5 A mouth they have, and doe not speak:
have eyes, and doe not see.

6 Ears have they, and they doe not heare:
have nose, and doe not smell.

7 Feet have they, and they doe not walke:
have hands, and doe not feel;

They with their throat doe make no sound,

8 Like unto them, be those that doe them make: each-one that doth, his trust in them repose.

9 O Israel, trust in the LORD:
their help, and shield is hee.

10 O A'rons house, trust in the LORD:
their help and shield is hee.

11 Ye that fear IAH, trust in the LORD:
their help and shield he is.

12 Iehovah hath remembred us, he bounteously-will-bleffe;

the family of Israel,

he bleffe will bounteously;

the family of Aharon,

bleffe will he bounteously.

13 Hee bleffe them that Iehovah fear:
the small, with greater ones.

PSALM CXV.

- 14 Iehovah adde wil unto you:
to you, and to your sonnes.
15 Bless'd shall you of Iehovah bee:
which made the earth and heav'n.
16 Heav'ns Iehovah are: and th'earth, he t' Adams sonnes hath given.
17 The dead, nor any down that goe to silence, praise not IAH.
18 But we will blesse Iah; henceforth and for aye; Halelujah.

PSALME 116.

Sing this as the 7. Psalm.

- I Love, because Iehovah doth my voice my prayers hear.
2 And in my daies will call, because he bow'd to me his ear.
3 The pangs of death did compasse me:
th'afflicting-anguishes;
of hell did also finde me out:
I found grief and distresse.
4 And on Iehovahs name I call'd:
oh LORD now rid my soule.
5 Gracious Iehovah is and just:
and our God mercifull.
6 Iehovah doth the simple keep:
I was even low-supprest
7 and he did save me. O my soule, return unto thy rest,
Because Iehovah bounteously rewarded hath to thee.
8 Because my soule away from death thou hast released-free;
mine eye from tears, my foot from fall.
9 Before Iehovah, I
in lands of them that living are,
will walk-continually.
20 I did beleeve, therefore I spake:
I was in sore distress.

PSALM CXVI. CXVII. CXVIII.

- 11 In my hastening did say:
each man a lyar is.
- 12 What shall I give the LORD: for his rewards unto me all?
- 13 I will take up the cup of healths:
and on the LORDS name call,
- 14 In presence now of all his folk :
Ile pay the LORD my vows.
- 15 Precious is in Iehovahs eyes deaths of his Saints- gracious.
- 16 Oh now Iehovah, thy servant
thy servant sure am I;
I am the son of thy handmayd:
my bands thou didst untye.
- 17 Sacrifice of confession,
I unto thee will say:
and call upon Iehovahs name.
- 18 To IAH my vows Ile pay :
in presence now of all his folk :
- 19 In courts of th'house of IAH, in midds of thee Ierusalem:
O Hallelulah.

PSALME 117
Sing this as the 108. Psalme.

O Praise Iehovah, all ye gentiles: laud him yee 2 all peoples. For to us his mercies mightie bee:
and unto aye, Iehovahs faithfulness endures: Hallelulah.

PSALME 118.
Sing this as the 24 Psalme.

Confesse Iehovah for hee's good:
for his mercie for aye.
That his mercie for ever is;
let Israel now say.
Let those of A'rons house now say:
that his mercie for ever.

- 4 They that Iehovah fear, now say:
that his mercy for ever.
- 5 Out of distresse, I call'd on Iah:
with routh, Iah answ'ed me.
- 6 Iehovah for me, I fear not,
what man can doe to me,
- 7 Iehovah is for me, with them
that helpers of me bee:
and on them that mine haters are,
I their reward shall see.
- 8 It better, in Iehovah, is to hope for safetie:
than confidence for to-repose
in any man-earth-ly.
- 9 Yea better in Iehovah it
to hope for safetie is:
than confidence for to-repose
in bountifull-princes.
- 10 All heathens compass't me: but I
in IAH'S name cut-off them.
- 11 They compass't compass't me: but I
in IAH'S name cut-off them.
- 12 They compass't me as bees: they were as fire of thorns quenched, because that in Iehovah's name soon-cut them off I did.
- 13 Thou thrusting thrustest me to fall:
Iehovah eke help mee.
- 14 Iah is my strength and song: and my salvation was hee.
- 15 Voice of shout and salvation in tents of just-men is:
the right hand of Iehovah, it
performeth valiantnes.

* 2 *

- 16 The right hand of Iehovah, it
on-hye-exalted is:
the right hand of Iehovah, it
performeth valiantnes.

PSALM CXVIII.

- 17 I shall not die but live: and tell,
the things that Iah worketh.
- 18 Iah chastising chastised me:
but gave me not, to death.
- 19 Open yee unto me the gates of righteous justests:
that I may enter into them,
may unto Iah confess.
- 20 This-same Iehovahs gate: in which the just men shall enter.
- 21 I will confesse to thee, because thou gavest me answer:
And thou hast my salvation been.
- 22 The Stone the builders did contemp'tously- refuse: it is become the corners head.
- 23 This of Iehovah was; it is in our eyes marveilous.
- 24 This day, Iehovah made: in it be glad and joy let us.
- 25 O now Iehovah save: oh now LORD give prosperitie.
- 26 He that comes in Iehovahs name O blessed let him bee:
a blessing we-doe wish to you,
out of Iehovahs house.
- 27 God is Iehovah, and he hath light given unto us:
with cords, unto the altars hornes
the feast-offrings bind yee.
- 28 Thou art my God and thankfully-will I confesse to thee:
my God, and thee exalt will I.
- 29 Confesse to Iehovah, for he is good: for, his mercie continueth for aye.

PSALM CXIX.

PSALME 119.

This may be sung also as the 86 Psalme.

Blessed are they that perfect are in way : they that doe walk , in law of Iehovah. 2 Blessed they that his testimonies keep : they that for him with all the heart doe seek ; Moreover, they

that have not practised iniquitie : but in his wayes walked. 4 Thy precep:s, thou hast giv'n commandement : to be observed with heed vehement.

5 Oh that my waies directed were firmly:

PSALM. CXIX.

for to observe thy precepts heedfully.

6 Then shall I not be shamed: when I shall respect have, unto thy commandments all.

7 I will confesse thee with hearts righteousness: when I shall learn thy judgements of justes.

8 Thy statutes I observe will heedfully:

O thou forsake me not, vehemently.

* 2 *

9 Wherwith his way clean shall a yong man make according to thy word, heed for to take.

10 With all my heart I carefully seek thee: from thy commandments, wander let not mee.

11 Thy sayings I have hid my heart within: to th'end that, I might not against thee sin.

12 Iehovah thou most-blessed ever art: thy statutes doctrine unto me impart.

13 I with my lipps did openly declare: the judgements all, that out of thy mouth are.

14 Ioy doe I in way of thy witnesses: as above all abundance of riches.

15 In thy precepts doe I still meditate: thy pathwayes also I doe contemplate.

16 I in thy statutes sweetly solace mee: I of thy words will not forgetfull bee.

* 3 *

17 Reward thou to thy servant bounteously, that live and so observe thy word may I.

18 Vncover thou mine eyes that I may see: the marveilous things that of thy law bee.

19 A sojournour I am the earth upon: hide not thou thy commandements me from.

20 My soule it with desire is broken small: to thy judgments in time continuall.

21 The proud accurst, thou hast rebuk d-away: that doe from thy commandments goe astray.

22 Turn thou from me, contempt and opprobrie: because thy testimonies kept have I.

23 Princes sit also, speech against me vile: thy servant, he doth on thy statutes muse.

PSALME CXIX.

Also thy testimonies, they have been my solacing delights : my counsell men.

* 4 *

My soule doth to the dust affixed cleave:
according to thy word, thou me revive.

My wayes I have declared, and of thee
I answer had: thy statutes teach thou mee.

Make me to understand thy precepts way:
that in thy marvels, meditate I may.

My soule it droppeth tears for heaue-pain;
according to thy word, me raise againe.

Take thou from me the way of falsitie:
and thy law give thou to me graciouslie.

The way of constant-faithfulness I chose:
Thy judgements I before me did propose.

Vnto thy testimonies cleave-I fast:
let me not O Iehovah be abasht.

The way of thy commandments run will I:
when thou shalt largelie mine hart amplifie.

* 5 *

Iehovah teach thou me thy statutes way, that keep the same unto the end I may.

Me prudent make that keep thy law may I:
and with th'wole hart observe it heedfullie.

In path of thy commandments make me tread:
for in the same I have my selfe pleaded.

Inclue my hart unto thy witneses:
and not to covetous gain-thirstines.

Remove mine eyes from seeing vanitee:
and in thy wayes alive-conserve thou mee.

Firm lerthy saying to thy servant bee:
which is addicted to the feare of thee.

That my reproch which I for fear-beware, turn thou away: for good thy judgements are.

Loe to thy precepts a desire I have:
thou in thy justice doe alive-me save.

* 6 *

And let thy mercies come to me O Lord:
thy saying health, according to thy word.

42 And

PSALM. CXIX.

- 42 And my reproacher answer make shall I:
for in thy word I trust assuredly.
43 And word of truth pull not with vehemence from my mouth: for I wait for thy judgements, 44 And I will keep thy law continually;
for ever and to perpetuitie.
45 And in a large-roomth I shall walk about;
for thy precepts I studiously-seek out.
46 And in Kings presence, of thy witness
I speak will I; and not blush with bashfulness.
47 And I will solace-me delightfully,
In thy commandements, which love doe I.
48 And will lift up my hands to thy precepts which I doe love; and muse on thy precepts.

* 7 *

- 49 Remember thou thy word to thy servant
for which to wait-with-hope thou didst me grant.
50 This is my comfort in my miserie:
that thy promise alive-preserveth mee.
51 The proud have scorn'd me very veh'mently:
but from thy law declined have not I.
52 Thy judgements I of old remembered Iehovah, and my selfe I comforted.
53 A burning-horror hold on me did take.
for wicked men: that doe thy law forsake.
54 Songs unto me be thy prescriptions,
In house of my peregrinations.
55 Thy name Iehovah I remembered by night: thy law likewise observe I did.
56 This hath been unto me, because that I have thy precepts observed-heed-fully.

* 8 *

- 57 My portion, Iehovah sayd have I:
for to observe thy speeches heedfully.
58 With all mine heart I earnest seek thy face according to thy word to me shew-grace.
59 I thought upon my wayes: my feet also thy testimonies I did turn unto.
60 I hastened, and no delay did make:

PSALM CXIX.

to thy commandements heed for to take:

- 1 Bands of the wicked have with robbery
 spoil'd me; thy law forgotten have not I.
 2 At midnight will I rise, thee to confesse:
 for the judgments of thy just-righteousnes.
 3 I am companion to all that feare thee:
 and of thy precepts the observers bee.
 4 Iehovah of thy bountifull-mercees the earth is full; O learn methy decrees.

* 9 *

- 5 Goodnes thou hast accomplished, O LORD,
 With thy servant; according to thy word.
 6 Learn me goodnes of reason and science:
 for, I beleeve in thy commandements.
 7 Before I was afflicted, I did stray:
 but now, I doe observe what thou dost say.
 8 Good art thou, also good is done by thee:
 thine ordinances teach thou unto me.
 9 The proud against me forged have a lye:
 with all the heart thy precepts keep doe I.
 10 Their hart is waxen-gross as fatty-grease:
 I in thy law my self delightfull-please.
 11 It's good for me, that I afflicted was;
 that I may learn thy constituted-lawes.
 12 the law of thy mouth better is to me:
 than thousands both of gold and silver be.

* 10 *

- 13 Me made and fash'oned me have thine hands:
 instruct me that I learn may thy commands.
 14 They that thee fear shall see me and be glad:
 for, for thy word I patient-hope have had.
 15 I know LORD, that thy judgements justice bee, and thou with faithfulness afflictest mee.
 16 O let thy mercie be for my solace:
 even as thy saying to thy servant was.
 17 That I may live, come let thy dear-mercies to me: for thy law my whole-solace is.
 18 Abashed be the proud, for they falsly deprave me: on thy precepts mule doe I.

79 They

PSALME. CXIX.

79 They that thee fear, let them turne me unto:
they also that thy testimonies know.

80 O let mine heart be perfect without blame, in thy decrees: that I may not have shame.

* 11 *

81 My soule doth faint for thy salvation:
thy word I hopefully-doe-wait upon.

82 Mine eyes doe faile for promise made by thee:
saying, when wilt thou comfort-give to me.

83 Though like a bottell in the smoke am I, thy statutes are not from my memorie.

84 How many are thy servants dayes? when to my persecutors wilt thou judgement doo?

85 They that are proud, have digged pits for mee:
which unto thy law not according bee.

86 All thy commandments faithfull are: they doe me persecute with falshood, help me thou?

87 Almost an end of me on earth they make:
but thy precepts I doe not them forsake.

88 Quicken thou me after thy kind-mercie:
and thy mouthes testimonie keep will I.

* 12 *

89 Thy word Iehovah, to eternitie, within the heav'ns abideth stedfastly.

90 Thy faithfulness to generations all:
the earth thou stablishedst, and stand it shall.

91 To thy judgements, this day they standing bee:
because they all are servants unto thee.

92 Vnless thy law had been my solaces:
then had I perished in my distress..

93 For aye thy precepts I will not forget:
because by them thou hast aliue me kept.

94 Thine own am I, vouchsafe thou me to save:
for I thy precepts carefullie=sought have.

95 For me the wicked waite me to destroy:
I in thy witnesses my thoughts imploy.

96 Of all perfection I see an end:
vehement large is thy commandment,

O how delightfull-doe I love thy Law?
it is my meditation all the day.

Me wiser then my foes thou mak'st to bee:
by thy commands: for it is aye with mee.

More prudent then my teachers all, am I:
because thy witnessses are my studie.

More than the Elders understand doe I:
because thy precepts I kept heedfullie.

I have my feet from ev'rie evill way restrained; that thy word observe I may.

From thy Judgements away I am not gone:
for thou hast giv'n me information.

How sweet thy sayings are unto my tast:
more then is honey to my mouth repast.

By thy precepts have I got prudence:
therefore I hate each path of falshie.

Thy word is to my foot a candle-bright:
and to my path it is a shining-light.

I sware and will it firmelie ratifie:
to keep the judgments of thine equitie.

I am afflicted veh'mentlie: O LORD, quicken thou me according to thy word.

Accept thou oh Iehovah, th'offerings free of my mouth: and thy judgments learn thou mee.

my soule is in my hand continually:
and yet thy law forgotten have not I.

The wicked-men a snare for me have layd:
but from thy precepts I have not estrayd.

To aye thy testimonies I possess:
for they are of mine heart the joyfulness

To execute thy statutes, I doe bend mine hart; for ever even unto the end.

Vain-cogitations them hate doe I;
but thy law doe I: love delightfully.

Thou art my secret-place and my buckler;
thy word I hopefully have waited for.

PSALM CXXIX.

- 125 Ye evil doers goe from me away:
that keep my Gods commandements I may.
- 126 That I may live, as thy word hold me fast :
and for my hope let me not be abasht.
- 127 Suffeyne me and I shall be say'd : and I thy statutes will delight continually.
- 128 Thou hast trode-downe al them that stray-abroad from thy statutes : for falshood is their fraud.
- 129 All wicked of the earth thou dost remove like drosse : therefore thy witnesses I love
- 130 My flesh for dread of thee is sore dismayd:
I also for thy judgements am afraid.
- * 16 *
- 121 I have done judgement, and just righteousness:
O leave me not to them that me oppress.
- 122 Be suretey for thy servant for my good:
let me not be oppressed by the proud.
- 123 For thy salvation false doe mine eyes:
and for the oracles of thy justice.
- 124 Doe thou according vnto thy mercee with thy servant ; thy statutes learn thou mee.
- 125 I am thy servant, give me prudentnes:
that I may know thy faithfull-witnesses:
- 126 It's for Iehovah time the work-to-take :
Because thy law of none effecte they make.
- 127 Therefore I thy commandements do love :
above the gold, yea finest gold above.
- 128 Therefore all precepts of each thing, doe I hold-right I hate each way of fallitie.
- * 17 *
- 129 O marveilous thy testimonies are:
Therefore my soule keeps them with beedfull care.
- 130 The op'ning of thy speeches giveth light :
gives vnderstanding to the simple-wight.
- 131 Lop'ned-wide my mouth and I panted:
because for thy commandments I longed.
- 132 Regard and shew me grace, as doth behove in judgement towards those thy name that love.
- 133 My footsteps in thy word direct firmlie :

PSALM CXIX.

and rule in me let none iniquitie

4 From mans oppression redeem thou me:
and of thy precepts I will keeper be.

5 vpon thy servant make thy face to shine:
and of thy statutes teach me the doctrine.

6 Rivers of waters down mine eyes doe flow:
because that they doe not observe thy law.

* 18 *

7 Iehovah thou art of just equitee:
most-righteous thy judgements also bee.

8 Thou hast the justice of thy witness commanded: also faith with veh'mentnes.

9 My fervent-zeale consumeth me for that my adversarie-foes thy words forget.

10 Thy saying is refined veh'mently:
thy servant eke loves it delightfully.

11 I litle am and basely-set-at-nought:
thy precepts, are not past out of my thought.

12 Thy justice, justice is eternally:
thy law is also faithfull-veritie.

13 Find me did painfull-anguish and distress:
but thy commandments, are my solaces.

14 Thy testimonies justice is for aye:
make me to understand, that live I may.

* 19 *

15 Iehovah, I with all mine hart doe crie:
answer thou me, thy statutes keep will I

16 I call vpon thee, thou me safe-preserve:
and I thy testimonies will observe.

17 I in the twilight, did prevent, and cry:
I for thy word have waited hopefully.

18 Prevent the nightly watches did mine eyes:
in thine edict, my selfe-to-exercise.

19 Iehovah, heare my voyce for thy mercee:
according to thy judgement quicken mee.

20 They that doe follow mischief, neer doe draw:
farr-off they are estranged from thy law.

21 Thou O Iehovah art aproched-nie: and thy commandments all are veritie.

PSALME CXIX.

152 Of old I of thy testimonies know :
that them for ever founded sure hast thou.

* 20 *

153 See mine affliction and out me draw:
because that I have not forgot thy law.

154 Plead thou my plea, also redeem me free :
according to thy promise, quicken me.

155 Salvation farr from the wicked is:
because they have not sought for thy decrees.

156 Thy mercies O Iehovah many be:
according to thy judgments quicken me.

157 Many me persecute and me distress :
I have not swarved from thy witnesses.

158 I saw transgressors, and sore grief I got:
for that thy saying they observed not.

159 That I thy precepts love, Lord doe thou see:
according to thy mercie quicken mee:

160 Beginning of thy word is faithfulness:
and each of thy just judgements, ever is .

* 21 *

161 Princes me persecute without desert :
but of thy word in aw-stand doth my heart.

162 I joyfull am for that which thou dost say :
as one that findeth even an ample pray.

163 Falshood I hate, abhorre it eke doe I:
but I doe love thy law delightfully.

164 Sev'n times a day doe I give praise to thee:
for judgement of thy righteous equitee.

165 To them that love thy law, there is much peace:
and to them no offensive-scandall is.

166 Hoped I have for thy salvation
Iehovah: and have thy commandements doon.

167 Thy witnesses my soule keeps warily :
and I doe love them very veh'mently.

168 I keep thy precepts and thy witnesses:
for, ev'rie of my wayes before thee is.

* 22 *

169 Let my low-cry come neer before the LORD; me prudent make according to thy word

170 Lo

PSALM. CXIX.

deliver mee; even as thy promise was.
171 My lipps shall utter forth the praise of thee:
when as thy statutes thou hast learned mee.
172 My tongue thy saying shall alowd-declare:
for, justice all of thy commandments are.
173 Let thine hand be with succour me to save:
because that I thy precepts chosen have.
174 O LORD I long for thy salvation:
and thy law is my delectation.
175 Live let my soule, that praise it may give thee:
and let thy judgements succour give to me.
176 Like lost sheep, I have straid: thy servant seek,
for thy commandements in minde I keep.

thou and th' Ark of thy potencie.

9 Thy Priests with justice be clothed:
and thy Saints joyfully shout they.

10 Because of thy servant David:
thine Ointed face, turn not away.

upon thy throne I will up-rear
the fruit that of thy womb shall bee.

for brethren ev'n to dwell at one?

It's like the good oil on the head:

which did goe-down the beard upon,

the beard of A'ron: which down-went

It's like the dew of mount Hermon:

even like the dew that doth descend,

upon the mountains of Sion:

because Iehovah doth command that there the blessing still shall bee:

even life unto eternitee.

PSALME 134.

1 A song of degrees:

Sing this as the 21. Psalme.

BEhold, blesse ye the LORD,

all ye the Lords servants:

that in the Lords house stand by nights

Halelu-jah.

Sing this as the 108. Psalme.

OHalelu-jah, Praise

Iehovahs name doe yee:

O praise

O praise him yee that of Iehovah servants bee.

Yee that in th house
stand, of Iehovah, in the courts, of our Gods house.

O praise yee Iah, because Iehovah he good is:
sing psalm unto his name.
because it pleasant is.

For Iah hath chose Iakob to him: Isr'el, his tresure preciose.

For I doe know, that great Iehovah is: also
our Lord above all Gods.

Iehovah he doth doe,
what him doth please:
in heav'ns and earth: in seas, and in all deep-places.

Hee causeth vapours, from the earth end, to mount-hye:
makes lightnings with the rain:
out of his treasure,
the wind he brings.

Who smote Egypt, from man to beast,
in their firstlings.

Both signes and wonders-strange,
Egypt in midds of thee;
on Phar'oh and on all
his servants, send did hee.

Who smote many-great nations; and killed Kings that were mightie.

Sihon the Amorites King;
and Og King of Basan:
and Can'ans Kingdomes all.

And for possession
their land he gave:
to his folk Isr'el, in posses-

tion to have.

Jehovah, unto age
and age, thy memorie.

the heathen-nations,
they silver are and gold;
mens handie actions.

and doe not speak: eyes have they and doe not perceive.

17 They ears have and heare not:
breath in their mouth is, none.

18 Like them their makers be:
that trusts in them, each one.

blessed ye the LORD: blessed ye the Lord O A'rons house.

20 O blessed the LORD, ye house of Levi: blessed the LORD, ye that the LORD doe fear.

which dwelleth in Ierusalem; Hallelujah.

If I doe not in mind thee bear:
if I Ieruſalem doe not,
above my chiefeſt joy, prefer.

O blessed he, that takes, and hard against the Rock thy babes doth crush;

PSALME 138.

1 A Psalm of David:

Sing this as the 75. Psalm.

VVith all my heart Ile thee confesse:
before the Gods, to thee sing. Psalm:
To Pallace of thy holines;

Ile bow-down; and confesse thy name, for thy mercie and veritee:

for thou, thy word hast magnified

'bove all thy name. Thou answe'rest me then, in the day wherein I cried:!

With strength in my soule thou hast mee courageous made: O Iehovah;

all Kings of th'earth confesse shall thee words of thy mouth, when heare shall they.

And in Iehovahs waies shall sing:

for great Iehovahs glorie is.

Because Iehovahs high being.

yet him that lowly is he sees:

And he the proud from farre doth know:

If I walk in midds of distresse, thou dost revive me: send dost thou thy hand, gainst my foes wrathfulness;

and thy right hand doth me deliver.

Iehovah perfect will for me:

Iehovah, thy mercie for ever:

let not thy hand-works slacke be.

PSALME 139.

1. To the maister of the musick, Davids Psalm:

Sing this as the 119 Psalm.

Iehovah thou hast searched me, and known.

2 Thou know'st, my rising and my sitting-down:

thou dost discreetly understand from farre.

my cogitation-familiar.

- 3 My path and my down-lying thou dost fan :
And all my waies dost customably-scan.
 - 4 When in my tongue the speech is not as yet:
loest thou Iehovah know'st it every whit.
 - 5 Behind and fore thou dost me strait-inclose :
upon me also dost thy hand impose.
 - 6 This knowledge is to marveilous for me :
it's high, to reach I shall not able be.
 - 7 O whither shall I from thy spirit goe?
and whither; shall I flee thy presence fro?
 - 8 If I clime up the heavens, thou art there.
or make my bed in hell, loe thou art there.
 - 9 Wings of the morning-early if I take :
in th'utmost of the sea my dwelling-make.
 - 10 There also will thy hand my leader be;
and thy right hand will take-fast-hold on me.
 - 11 And if, but darknes shall me shroud; I say :
then is the night, about me lightsom-day.
 - 12 Yea darknes, darkneth not from thee : but night gives-light as day : alike are dark and light.
 - 13 For thou, my reines possessest : coveredst mee, 14 within my mothers womb. Laud will I thee, for fearfully, made wondrously I am ;
wondrous thy works: my soul wel knows the same
- * 2 *
- 15 A bone of me, from thee not hidden was:
when as I made was in a secret-place ;
when I have cunningly-embroidred been,
the nether-places of the earth within.
 - 16 On my unformed lump, thine eyes did look;
and all of them were written in thy book:
even in the daies that they receiv'd their-frame.
and when there was not any of the same.
 - 17 And unto me, how precious are O God thy thoughts : how at their sums increast-abroad
 - 18 Would I them tell, moe than the sand they bee :
I dee awake, and still I am with thee.
 - 19 If that O God, thou wouldst the wicked slay :

PSALM CXXXIX. CXL.

and men of blouds, from me depart away.

20 Which speak of thee, to mischeevous purpose:
lift up doe unto vanitie thy foes.

21 Hate I not them, Iehovah that hate thee:
and grieve for them that thy resisten bee.

22 With perfectnes of hatred hate I those:
they are unto me, as my verie-foes.

23 Search me O God, and know my heart doe thou, prove me, and doe my cogitations know.

24 And see, if way of sorow be in mee:
and lead me, in way of eternitee.

PSALME 140.

To the mayster of the musick; a Psalm of David.

Sing this as the 111. or as the 18. Psalm.

O LORD release me, from the evill man:
from man of violence, preserve thou me.

3 Which evill-things in heart doe think-upon:
daily, they unto warres assembled be.

4 Sharpen their tongue, ev'n serpentlike doe they:
Asps poyson, is under their lipps, Selah.

LORD keep me, from hands of the wicked-man:
from man of violence, preserve thou me:

Which for to thrust my feet, doe think upon.

6 The proud have privie-laid a snare for mee, and cords; a net they fast beside the way have spred; they grinns have set for me, Selah.

Thou art my God, I to Iehovah said:

LORD hear the voice wherwith I grace request.

Iehovih Lord, strength of my saving-aide:
in day of arms, my head thou coverest.

Grant not the wickeds lust O LORD: lest they be lostie, further not his craft, Selah.

10 The head of those that round doe compasse me:
the mischief of their lipps them cover shall.

11 The burning-coales, upon them brought shall be:
into the fire they will make to fall;
into deep pits, that they rise not againe.

12 Anyll-tongu'd man shall not in earth remain;

PSALM CXLII.

A man of wrong-full violence, evill shall hunt him to his sudden-miserie.

- 13 I know, that of the poore Iehovah will the Judgement doe ; the doom of the needie.
24 Surely the just shall to thy name confesse :
the righteous shall dwell, before thy face.

PSALME 141.

1 A Psalm, of David:

Sing this as the 39. Psalm,

- Iehovah I upon thee call,
make hast thou unto mee:
O give thou care unto my voice,
when I call unto thee.
2 My prayer be directed-firm before thee incense-wise:
and the uplifting of my hands,
as th'evening sacrifice.
3 LORD set, a watch before my mouth, dore of my lipps, observe.
4 Vnto the thing that evill is,
make not my heart to swerve :
pretenses to pretend, in sin ;
with men that doe practise iniquitie : let also me nor eat of their dainties.
5 Let just-men smite me, it shall bee
a mercifull-kindnes, and let him reprobend me; but their oile of preciousnes, let it not be unto my head breaking-distraction:
for yet even in their evils, is
my supplication.
6 Their Iudges ; by sides of the rock have thrown been underfeet :
my sayings also they shall hear,
for they are pleasing-sweet,

- 7 As when one cuts and cleaves on earth :
our bones disperfed bee,
8 at mouth of hell. But mine eyes are Iehovih Lord to thee:
O poure not out my soule, for I
for safetie-hope in thee.
9 Preserve me, from hands of the snare, which they have laid for me:
and grins of them that work unright.
10 O let the wicked fall into his net: whiles overpasse
I altogether shall.

PSALME 142.

1 An instructing-psalm of David : a prayer when he was in the cave.

Sing this as the 35. Psalme.

- I With my voice unto the LORD did cry:
did with my voice, make supplication
3 unto the Lord. My meditation I powred out before him : shew did I before him, my troublous-adversitie, 4 When overwhelmed was my spirit in mee, then knewest thou my path ; they in the way that I did walk, a snare for me did lay.
5 I looked on the right hand, and did see:
and there was none that would acknowledge me ; Refuge is perisht from me: not any 6 seeks for my soule. I cryde to thee ; thou art O Lord, said I, my safest-hope ; my part 7 in land of living. To my shouting-cry attend, for, I am low-brought vch mently:
Free me from my pursuers ; for they be 8 stronger than I. Doe thou my soule release from prison-close, thy name for to confesse:
the just-men shall about-inviron me ;
for, to me thou reward wilt bounteously.

A Psalm of David:

Sing this is the 7. Psalm.

- LORD hear my prayer, hearken to my suits for graciousnes:
me answer in thy faithfull-truth,
in thy just-righteousnes.
- 2 And into judgement enter not thou with thy servitour:
for none that liveth, justifie shall be thy face before.
- 3 For th'enemy pursues my soule, smites-down my life on clay:
he makes me sit in places dark,
even as the dead for aye.
- 4 And overwhelmed is my spirit
in me perplexedly:
in mids of me, my heart it is amazed-wondrously.
- 5 I call to mind the daies of old.
I meditation-use
on all thy work: on th'action of thy hands doe I muse.
- 6 I spread out unto thee my hands;
my soule, doth thirst for thee,
even as the wearie land. Selah.
- 7 Make speed Lord answer mee;
My spirit fallesth; keepe not thou thy face from me secret;
for then shall I be like to those that doe goe-down the pit.
- 8 At morn, let me thy mercie hear,
for in thee doe I trust:
O cause me to have knowledge of the waite that I walk must;
for unto thee, I lift my soule.
- 9 O Lord deliver mee
free from mine enemies: I flie for covert unto thee.

PSALME CXLIII. CXLIV.

10 Learn me to doe thy will, for thou my God art : thy good Spirit, it shall conduct me, in the land of equitie-upright.

11 Iehovah thou wilt quicken me even for thine own names sake :
thou in thy justice forth my soule out of distresse wilt take.

12 And in thy mercie wilt suppress my foes : and all of them destroy that doe afflict my soule ;
for, I thy servant am.

PSALME 144.

1 A Psalm of David;

Sing this as the 1. Psalm.

O Blessed be the Lord my Rock : which learns my hands the fight:
2 my fingers warr. My mercy kind and my strong-place-of-flight:
my tow'r and my deliverer for me: my shield, and he in whom I hope, that doth subject my people under me.

3 Lord, what is earthly-man, that thou of him dost knowledge take.
the son of wretched-man, that thou of him account-dost make?

4 The earthly-man compared is unto leight vanitie:
his dayes, they as a shadow are,
that passing hence-doth-flie.

5 Lord, bow thy heav'ns, and come thou down:
the mountains touch, and they 6 shall smoke. Inlighten-thou lightning and scatter them away.

Thine arrowes send, and them disturb.
7 Thine hand send from on hye :

PSALME CXLIV.

- release me and deliver me out of waters many.
Our of the hands of strangers-sonns,
whose mouth, speaks vanitie :
and their right hand, a right hand is
of lying fallacie.
- 9 O God, a new song I will sing to thee : with plalterie and with ten stringed-instrument,
to thee sing-psalm will I.
- 10 That gives to Kings salvation:
that doth release David his servant from the evill sword.
- 11 Release me and me rid,
out of the hand of strangers sonns :
whose mouth speaks vanitie ;
and their right-hand a right-hand is
of lying-fallacie.
- 12 That our sonns, as the plants, which in their youth great-waxen are :
our daughters, as the corner-stones, polisht like Pallace-faire.
- 13 Our ganers full, affording store of ev'ry sort of meats:
our cattel bringing thousands forth,
ten thousands in our streets.
- 14 Our Oxen, heavy-burdened :
no breaking-in, and none
our-going ; and within our streets.
no exclamation.
- 15 O blessed shall the people be
whose state is such as this!
O blessed shall the people be,
whose God Ichovah is.

thy justice also shout they shall.

long suffering, and great in mercy.

And his commiserations, are over all his actions.

10 Lord all thy works shall thee confesse, and thy saints gracious blesse thee.

his powrfull operations;
his Kingdomes comly glorioulnes,

13 Kingdom of all eternitie, thy Kingdom is: thy soveraigntie is also throughout all ages.

14 The Lord upholdeth all that fall :
and rightneth-up, the crooked all.

their meat in due time thou givest.

16 Thine hand thou op'nest: and fillest

 17 The Lord in all his wayes righteous; and in all his works bounteous 18 The Lord heere all that call to him :
 all that in truth him call unto,
 19 His fearers pleasure he will doe :
 and heare their out cry, and save them.
 20 The Lord preserves all them that be

 5 Bless'd be that Iakobs God hath for his ayd:
 whose hope doth in Iehovah his God stay.
 6 In him which heav'ns and earth, and sea hath made,
 and all in them : which keepeth truth for aye.

 he giveth bread to them that hungry be:
 them that are bound Iehovah doth unlose.

 Iehovah rightneth them that crooked are:
 Iehovah loveth them that righteous be.
 9 Iehovah doth the strangers safe-beware:
